Mendes-France Gets Free Hand From Assembly

French Premier Will Try For Alternative to EDC

PARIS (UP)—Premier Pierre Mendes-France won a free hand from the National Assembly today to negotiate a new solution for German rearmament to replace the now-dead European Defense Community Treaty. By a vote of 418 to 162, the premier won a vote of confidence in his ability to find a new medium of western European co-operation replacing the EDC Treaty defeated by the Assembly Monday.

By DONALD J. GONZALES

WASHINGTON (UP)—Secretary of State John Foster Dulles today called for an emergency meeting of the North Atlantic Treaty Council to weigh the "tragedy" caused by French rejection of the European Army plan (EDC).

Dulles, in a strongly-worded statement, said the action of the French Assembly Monday in rejecting the plan by a 319 to 264 vote, "obviously imposes on the United States the obligation to reappraise its foreign policies, particularly those in relation to Europe."

The EDC plan, providing for West German rearmament under a supranational command, had been a centerpiece of U.S. policy in Europe.

Describing the French action as a "saddening event," Dulles declared it did not change the "stubborn" fact that the effective defense of Europe calls for a substantial military contribution from the Germans.

Dulles said, in effect, that the reappraisal of U.S. policies will

Sovereignty for West Germany

Dulles confirmed that the United States will go ahead with moves to grant sovereignty to West Germany, despite the rejection of EDC to which German sovereignty had been tied. He said it would be "unconscionable if the failure to realize EDC through no fault of Germany's should now be used as an excuse for penalizing Germany."

"The federal German republic should take its place as a free and equal member of the society of nations," Dulles said. "That was the purpose of the resolution which the United States senate adopted unanimously last July, and the United States will act accordingly."

Dulles recalled that he had warned the 74-nation NATO council last April that if EDC failed "that would create an emergency situation which would call for special meeting of that council."

Meanwhile, openly disappointed at the French decision, President Eisenhower said, "There is no disguising the fact" that it was a "serious setback" for the west. The United States is properly dismayed, he said, but "shall not quit" its free world leadership.

NATO Meeting Seen Opportune

OTTAWA (BUP)—Canada believes a new meeting of the North Atlantic powers to review the question of arming western Germany would be "opportune now," a foreign affairs spokesman said today. External Affairs Minister Lester B. Pearson was not immediately available for comment on the call of U.S. Secretary of State John Foster Dulles for an emergency meeting of the North Atlantic council.

But he already had expressed the view that it was desirable "to look at the whole problem now in a North Atlantic context."

Pearson made the statement in a speech in Windsor, Ont., Monday night. He termed the rejection of the European Defense Community plan by France "disappointing but certainly not any reason for despair."

Churchill Calls Cabinet Meeting
PARIS (UP)—Premier Pierre Mendes-France asked the French National assembly today to postpone all discussion of foreign policy for two months and there were reports he would fly to England to confer with Prime Minister Winston Churchill.

In London it was announced Churchill had called a meeting of his cabinet for Wednesday to consider problems raised by the French Assembly rejection of the European Defense Community (EDC) Monday night.

Mendes-France proposed the French Assembly take its much-postponed summer vacation and reconvene Nov. 3. His move apparently was made to give western leaders as much freedom as possible in working out alternatives to the EDC. The Assembly reconvened today after defeating the treaty 319 to 264.

The 47-year-old French leader sought ways and means of convincing his Allies that his nation still backs the western alliance despite assembly rejection of the joint European army plan. Mendes-France was reported by political sources in Paris to be preparing an "important" statement to the assembly, possibly on an alternative to EDC granting West Germany its sovereignty and rearming Germans in defense of Western Europe. In London Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden announced that he "reluctantly" decided he is unable to go to Manila next month for the Southeast Asian conference because of "urgent and important problems arising from the rejection by the French Assembly of the European army."

Eden rushed to London from a country week-end to study the situation resulting from the

NINE INJURED AS VANCOUVER GETS DELUGE

VANCOUVER (CP)—Lashing rain and slippery streets here late Monday were blamed by police for 26 traffic accidents. Nine people were injured, none seriously. The .38 inch of rain was almost twice the average .20 inch of other "wet" August days.

9 Known Dead As Hurricane Strikes U.S.

Damage in Millions, Thousands Marooned

BOSTON (UP)—At least nine persons were killed as hurricane Carol swept across southern New England today.

Eight bodies were washed up on Oakland Beach, Warwick, R.I., shortly after the storm center passed. Earlier, a businessman was blown to his death from a 10-story building in Worcester, Mass.

Providence, R.I., was flooded when the storm struck at high tide. Water pushed into the downtown area to within two feet of the level reached in the disastrous hurricane in 1938.

Thousands of workers were marooned in downtown Providence office buildings when the water submerged buses and cars.

Damaged was estimated in the millions of dollars. All power and telephone communication was cut off to the flooded area.

The hurricane had swept across heavily populated Long Island and into New England, smashing heavy seas against docks and beaches, toppling trees and power lines and sweeping small craft from their moorings.

AIRLINES DIVERTED

MONTREAL (BUP)—Four big trans-Atlantic airlines bound for New York's Idlewild Airport were diverted to Montreal today as the lashing fall of a hurricane brought rain and high winds to Long Island, N.Y. British Overseas Airways Corp., Air France, Trans-World Airlines and the Belgian Sabena Airlines ordered their planes to land at nearby Dorval Airport, until weather conditions cleared up at Idlewild.

WORLD COUNCIL WINDS UP

Peace, Justice Only At Cross of Christ

EVANSTON, Ill. (UP)—The World Council of Churches closed its second assembly today with a solemn warning to the world that final peace and justice can be found "only at the cross of Christ."

Six hundred delegates from 163 churches and denominations in 48 states closed a 17-day convocation considered one of the most important religious meetings ever held in the western hemisphere.

As one of its final actions, the assembly sent forth a message to Christians based on the meeting's theme of "Christ, the Hope of the World."

"Only at the cross of Christ, where men know themselves as forgiven sinners, can they be made one," the message said. "It is there that Christians must pray daily for their enemies."

It is there that we must seek deliverance from self-righteousness, impatience and fear. And those who know that Christ is risen should have the courage to expect new power to break through every human barrier.

The church leaders vowed to press forward toward greater unity between the faiths.

IMPROVEMENT SCHEME DRAFTED

1st Year Beauty Grant Allotted to Waterfront

$50,000 Earmarked For Holland Point

Victoria's $50,000 capital city grant this year will be spent on extensive beautification of Holland Point, on the Dallas Road waterfront, between Menzies and Douglas.

The joint provincial-civic grant administration and the provincial government have approved the plan. Work will start in two or three weeks.

Landscape specialists are being consulted, and a master plan will be drawn for turning the area from dense gorse and broom waste to a valuable scenic attraction.

The original plan presented by the six-man committee was returned for further consideration by Provincial Secretary Wesley Black. On Monday, the committee approved slightly revised plans for the project.

FAIR PROJECT
A government source said it is expected the entire grant will be spent on Holland Point before winter.

Dallas Road residents have repeatedly demanded clearing of the point.

Members of the capital city grant committee are Mayor Claude Hattrison, Alderman Arthur Dowell, and City Manager Cecil Wyatt for the city; and Provincial Librarian Wilford Ireland, Deputy Works Minister Evan Jones, and Deputy Municipal Affairs Minister J. E. Brown, for the province.

The $50,000 grant was approved at the spring session of the legislature. At that time, government spokesmen promised it would be a continuing grant.

Committee members are reported to have recommended the Holland Point development as a project which could fit into a long-term beautification program for the city, using an annual provincial grant.

Holland Point at one time was the site of fortifications. It is named after George Holland, a Hudson's Bay Co. employee who first landed at Victoria aboard the Beaver, in 1836.

He later taught school at Fort Vancouver, and became company postmaster at Langley in 1843. Holland's name first appeared on the Kellett admiral's chart of 1848.

PNE Rain Check
VANCOUVER (CP)—Directors of the Pacific National Exhibition decided to hold another "Children's Day" Thursday after learning that Monday's special day drew 17,000 fewer children than last year's 30,000 attendance. Stormy weather was blamed for the drop.

Universal Training?
WASHINGTON (UP)—The American Legion will go on record Wednesday in favor of a universal military training program calling for 16 weeks' basic training for every able-bodied young man, informed sources predicted today.

Child Awarded $7,250
VANCOUVER (CP)—Six-year-old Patricia Grace Cawley of Nanaimo has been awarded $7,250 compensation for traffic injuries she received May 18, 1951. The child was run over by a car driven by E. W. Forward of Ladysmith as Patricia crossed the Island Highway in front of her home.

RIO DE JANEIRO (UP)—Political police were alerted today in anticipation of new violence in the crisis that drove President Getulio Vargas to suicide a week ago.

Englishman's Bus His Castle Too?

By EMERSON CHAPIN
LONDON (Reuters)—Middle-aged London business men today were stepping out after the city's big red double-decker buses like track stars bounding down the straightaway.

Gone was all the traditional aplomb with which the patient queues at bus stops normally await their turn—swept away in a single bold judgment by a free-enterprising judge. For Judge Paul Bennett declared in court Monday that "a citizen has the right to get on a bus at traffic lights or whenever it is stationary."

The punch in his statement lies in the fact that British buses have no doors. Passengers simply step on or off the open platform at the rear.

This permits the nimble-footed travelers to dismount in a hurry as his bus slows

LABORITES PLAN VISIT TO POLAND

LONDON (UP)—British Labor party leaders announced today that an eight-man delegation of Socialists will leave late this week for a visit to Communist Poland.

The latest trip was disclosed as former Labor prime minister Clement Attlee and seven other Socialist party members arrived in Canton on the last leg of their tour of Red China.

Other Labor party delegations have announced they shortly will visit Russia and Czechoslovakia.

WIRE BRIEFS

Americans Released

HONG KONG (BUP)—Five United States air force technicians captured by the Communists in the last months of the Indo-China war were released today, the Communist Indo-China radio announced.

Weekly Wage Up

OTTAWA (BUP)—The average weekly wage in Canadian industry July 1 was $58.86, up $1.29 from the previous year, the Bureau of Statistics said today.

Chains Boost Smokes

MONTREAL (CP)—Two chain grocerias Monday increased cigarette prices, bringing them in line with those of tobacco stores.

Toronto Church Burns

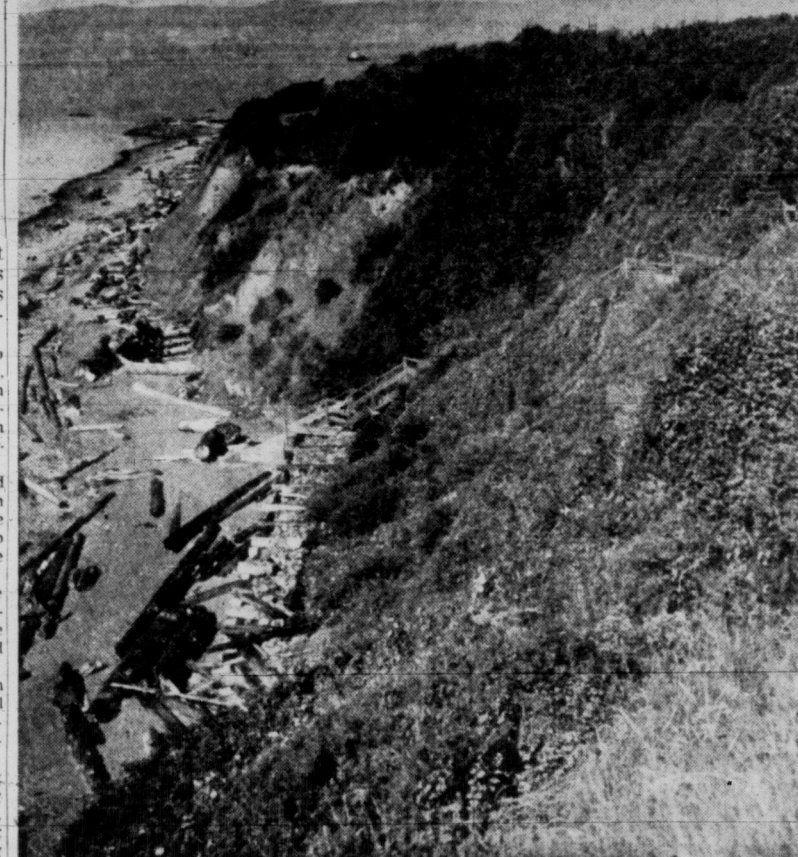

TORONTO (BUP)—Fire gutted the 64-year-old Bloor St. United Church within 90 minutes today, and the arson squad was called in to investigate. Damage estimates ranged from $250,000 to $300,000.

New Violence?

RIO DE JANEIRO (UP)—Political police were alerted today in anticipation of new violence in the crisis that drove President Getulio Vargas to suicide a week ago.

SEATO Text Leak In Manila Paper

Treaty Said to Follow Anzus Pact; Philippines President Orders Probe

MANILA (Reuters)—Philippines President Ramon Magsaysay today ordered a full investigation into the circumstances by which an American-owned newspaper here printed the "top-secret" text of an American draft for a Southeast Asia Treaty Organization.

The draft, due to be studied Wednesday by a mission of eight countries arriving here for a conference on the proposed pact, was published in full in the Manila Bulletin.

It follows the lines of the Anzus defensive treaty involving the United States, Australia and New Zealand.

Admiral Raymond Spruance, U.S. ambassador to the Philippines, is understood to have called on Magsaysay to protest against publication of the draft.

The leakage is expected to rule out Manila as the probable headquarters for SEATO.

ENVOYS EMBARRASSED

Some advance-guard members of the delegations to next week's talks, involving the U.S., Britain, France, Australia, New Zealand, Thailand, the Philippines and Pakistan, described the publication as "highly embarrassing." And delegates who preferred not to be named described the Bulletin's version of the American draft agreement as "pretty right."

The published version of the American draft contained nine articles fixing the treaty area as the general area of Southeast Asia and the Southwest Pacific, not including the area north of 21 degrees, 30 minutes north latitude. This line runs between the north of the Philippines and Formosa. It also intersects Tonkin Province of Indo-China.

It provided that each treaty party would "act to meet the common danger in accordance

MARTHA WAYNE COMIC IN TIMES TODAY

MARTHA

The Times today introduces a new strip to its readers on the comic page. It is "The Story of Martha Wayne."

Today's strip, on Page 17, introduces some of the characters and gives the background of the current episode.

The story is a lively and warm one of everyday people and their everyday problems, but it combines romance and mystery with intrigue.

The man who does both the continuity and the drawings is artist-writer Wilson Scruggs, who succeeds in making Martha Wayne a really human character.

Turn to Page 17 for the introduction to Martha Wayne which will appear daily.

AS HEARING OPENS

Joe Throws First Punch

WASHINGTON (UP)—Senator Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis.), charged today at the opening of a hearing against him that his senate accusers have "ulterior, political" motives.

JUST for the RECORD

WHEE-E-E! In New York Pamela Conlon, eight, fell three stories yesterday when she toppled out of the bathroom window of her home. She landed on an old couch in the back yard.

Her only injuries—minor bruises—suffered when she bounced from the couch to the pavement.

THE BIG HEAT: In Pasadena a man who got infuriated with his auto because it became overheated in 88-degree weather, furiously flailed it with a baseball bat until police officer Lyle Fagan interfered. The exhausted motorist put down the bat and explained to Fagan, "we got overheated at the same time but I've cooled off now."

OH WELL: In Santa Monica, Calif., the burglar who robbed Walter Emerson's music shop apparently had little knowledge of musical instruments. He stole a ukulele and a book entitled "How to play the harmonica."

DRAMA: In Morehead City, N.C., when mayor George W. Dill was asked why only 40 persons sought shelter in city hall from the hurricane last night he explained: "They're all home watching the hurricane on television."

AID: In Brazil, Ind., Mrs. Peggy Roper, 22, Centralia, Ill., was given a blood transfusion so she could take a lie detector test.

Mrs. Roper, arrested on charges of forgery, adultery and falsifying a hotel reservation, was taken to Indianapolis for a lie test yesterday when it was discovered her blood pressure was too low for accurate results.

B.C. Lawyers Would Reform Divorce Laws

WINNIPEG (CP)—A British Columbia resolution recommending that desertion, cruelty and insanity be added to adultery as grounds for divorce will come before the civil justice section of the Canadian Bar Association Wednesday.

The resolution, which is paralleled by one presented by Saskatchewan, calls for divorce reforms along these lines in the provinces wanting them.

A. J. Cowan of Vancouver, chairman of the section, said Monday the resolutions say the required federal legislation should apply only to these provinces seeking the changes.

A second Saskatchewan resolution calls for the transfer of Quebec and Newfoundland divorce cases from the jurisdiction of Parliament to the Exchequer Court.

The administration of criminal justice section will hear papers on capital punishment, intoxication as a defense to a criminal charge, the law of insanity as a defense in criminal cases and the law in relation to criminal sexual psychopaths.

The Greater Victoria Civil Defense Control Board met Monday to start study aimed at reorganization of certain phases of administration. The reorganization deals with matters concerning the auxiliary police force and records.

Canada Would Bring Germany Into NATO

OTTAWA (CP)—Now that France has rejected the European Defense Community, the logical move would seem to be to bring West Germany into the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, officials here said Monday.

There was gloom in the capital at the news that the French National Assembly had refused to ratify EDC.

Canada had long favored EDC as the best method to rearm Germany within the Western defense orbit and still provide safeguards.

In the Ottawa view, foreign ministers of the 14 NATO nations should be called together to decide on the next move. The ministers will meet in Paris in December, but the matter is so urgent it might be necessary to arrange a foreign ministers' meeting before that, officials said.

Up to now, the government has declined to discuss openly possible alternatives to EDC. But officials regarded its chances as so hopeless that they were giving close study to the possibility of bringing Germany into NATO.

COLORED COLONIAL FLOOD

'Keep Britain White' Proposal Gaining Powerful Support

LONDON (BUP)—Pressure is being exerted on the British government to introduce legislation that would bring about a near "white Britain" policy in this country.

The pressure is chiefly built on reports from Britain's police forces, the trade unions and civic groups setting out the trouble these organizations are having trying to cope with the thousands of colored people entering Britain from Africa and the West Indies. Court magistrates have also contributed to the pressure by pointing out the anomalies existing in present legislation which allows colored colonials to enter Britain unhindered, and claim unemployment benefits at a rate which would be considered a good working wage in the man's home colony.

One of the most significant features of this growing "keep Britain white" controversy is the urgent reports sent to the home secretary, Sir David Maxwell Fyfe, by six district police chiefs concerning colored colonials living on public assistance. These reports, from London, Liverpool, Birmingham, Bristol, Newcastle and Hull, the main centres of the colored population in Britain, will go before Sir David next month when he returns from a short visit to Canada.

Under existing legislation East and West Africans and West Indians have been flocking into Britain in the last three years. Some of them stay away aboard small trading vessels bound for Britain, and once they land here have only to face a fortnight's jail on conviction of unlawful entry.

Being British subjects, these men cannot be deported back to their native colonies. Instead legislation provides for them to be given their train fare to any part of Britain in which they desire to live as soon as they are released from prison.

Immediately upon release they become liable for national unemployment relief.

Other colored colonials coming to this country in the normal way often land with insufficient funds to carry them through for a prolonged term, and many begin collecting unemployment relief from their first week in the country.

Records at the Colonial Office in London show that of each

B.C. CANNERY WORKERS GAIN PAY BOOST, SHORTER HOURS

VANCOUVER (CP)—Cannery, net and reduction plant workers in British Columbia have voted to accept a new two-year agreement with operators.

Business agent Alex Gordon of the United Fishermen's and Allied Workers' Union (Ind.) said Monday the agreement, which expires April 15, 1956, provides wage increases of 12 to 18 cents an hour for 2,600 workers.

As from April 16 next, the weekly work week will be reduced from 44 to 40 hours.

Still being negotiated is an agreement between the companies and 700 fresh fish and cold storage shore workers.

By GEORGE CORNELL
EVANSTON, Ill. (AP) — Speaker after speaker rose with grave, complicated proposals. Nerves were edgy. Agreement seemed impossible. The pink-cheeked presiding officer pushed his spectacles to his forehead.

"I think," he said, gazing out over the huge meeting, "I shall put to a vote only the last of several proposals made, because it's the only one of them I can remember." He paused, grinning. "By the way, what was it?"

Laughter rolled across the great hall, transforming the tension into easy informality. The problem melted before the infectious magic of this man with a scholar's head and a boy's sunny heart.

He is Most Rev. Geoffrey Fisher, Archbishop of Canterbury, Primate of All England and spiritual leader of more than 50,000,000 Christians around the world.

Here at the Assembly of the World Council of Churches, many church leaders are meeting him for the first time.

And they're discovering that the splendidly-robed commanding, dignified ecclesiastic that they once saw crowning the Queen on television is a human being, too.

LEAVES PLEASANT GLOW
"He's really amazing," said an American delegate. "When you're with him, it's as if you'd been close friends all your life. And afterwards, a sort of pleasant glow stays with you."

To Dr. Fisher, a candid, down-to-earth man with merry eyes and a grey fringe around his bald head, dignity is "many things, each in its right place." "It's always unselfconscious," he said. "It's being worthy of any given situation, in its proper context."

"He's always stopping to talk to people on the street," said Canon Herbert M. Waddams. "There's no feeling whatever about him of self-importance."

To the World Council council, in which Dr. Fisher and four others are finishing their terms as presidents, he commented on the job he has done with his characteristic self-effacing wit: "We have done absolutely nothing, and done it exceedingly well."

He is regarded today as one of the foremost thinkers in Christian leadership.

Christianity, he believes, "is gaining strength."

"The reason, I think, is not because it is trying to put itself over more, but because people are finding a vacuum in their personal lives and in today's public life."

As for the present international threats to civilization, Dr. Fisher said that the only honest, and thus useful, approach is for "the Communist and free worlds to recognize" each other in their respective positions.

"They've got to stop their race for non-committed parts of the world, and this can't be done without armaments reduction," he said.

Decorate Library

NANAIMO—The dilapidated public library on Wallace Street will have a redecorating job done and some new linoleum. Tender of Wheatcroft and Sons for $940 to redecorate, and J. H. Good Co. figure of $238.57 for linoleum were accepted by city council Monday night.

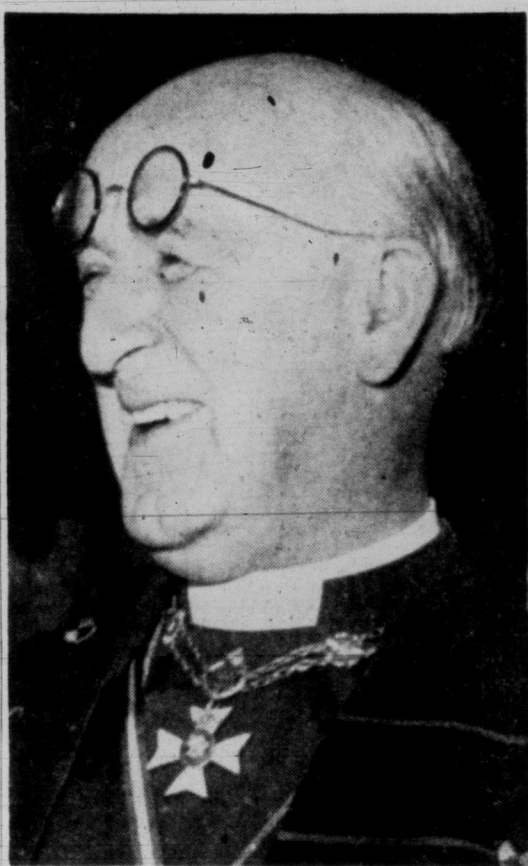

70-Year Resident of Island, Chinese Leader Dies Here

One of the oldest residents of Victoria's Chinese community, Quen Yen, 1431 Harrison, died Sunday after 70 years on the island.

Mr. Quen was 93. He first came to Victoria from China in 1884, when he opened a tailoring shop at Store and Johnson Streets. The shop, known as Chong Kee's, was later moved to the site of the present Mandarin Restaurant at Government and Fisgard.

Mr. Quen, who was active in Chinese affairs here, was well known to Orientals arriving in the port from China. During his earlier days in the city he became a close friend of many Indian families.

Mr. Quen is survived by his widow; two sons, Charles and Tom; two daughters, Mrs. B.

Dawley' Suspect Clears With Police

Identifies Self After Seeing Report in Monday's Times

Police were assisted Monday by a story in the Times which reported an Esquimalt housewife's suspicion that escaped convict Clifford Dawley had turned up in his old home town.

Immediately the Times went on the newsstands with the story of Mrs. K. Morgan, 482 Nelson, that a man resembling Dawley had called at her home, the mystery man identified himself.

ALEXANDRA TREATED BY DOCTOR

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont. (CP)—Princess Alexandra was treated by Dr. J. H. Davidson, chairman of the Niagara Falls board of health, during her visit to this city, it was learned Monday.

Nature of the ailment was not disclosed. The 17-year-old princess was treated at her 11th floor hotel suite by Dr. Davidson.

Her ailment obviously was not serious because she made all her scheduled appearances at the Falls, at a luncheon, a reception and the opening of the Sir Adam Beck generating station.

RACING TALKS POSTPONED IN SAANICH

Council Awaits Site Application

The proposed plan to establish a race track at Beaver Lake came up before Saanich Council Monday but councillors decided not to discuss the project until the West Coast Horsemen's Association applied to the municipality to have the site rezoned.

The council postponed discussion on the subject after it had received a letter from the city informing the municipality that the mayor and city aldermen are unanimously in favor of the race track.

City Council approved the race track project last week and granted the West Coast Horsemen's Association a six-month lease on 80.5 acres of city-owned property at Beaver Lake. The lease was granted in order to give the association time to draft plans for a layout for the track and to negotiate the matter with Saanich.

The Association has not yet applied to Saanich Council to have the site rezoned, but is expected to do so within the next two months.

Reeve Casey asked the council to receive and file the city's letter. "It's no use discussing this matter until the association has applied to the council to rezone the site," he said.

At the same time the council received and filed a letter from John J. Armstrong, 783 Claremont Road, objecting to the project.

He pointed out that two years ago 173 residents in the district had signed a petition opposing the development of a race track in the area.

GREEN CARPET GROWN IN WEEK FOR DUCHESS

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont. (CP)—The Duchess of Kent walked through a choice patch of Canadian grain Monday when she visited the reception centre at the new Ontario hydro-power plant after the formal opening ceremonies.

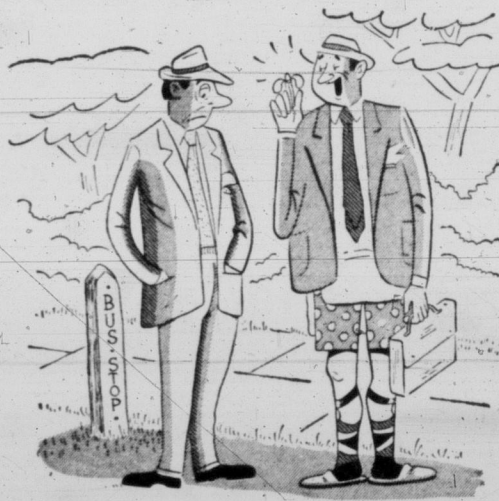

No one thought to tell her that the grain had been planted specially in her honor.

Hydro was faced with a landscaping problem to surround the building with green grass. Chairman Robert Saunders recalled that grain grew rapidly.

Qats were planted. The heavy rain of the last week caused the grain to flourish and provide a thick green sward through which the party passed into the reception centre.

RETIRED CIVIL SERVANTS SEEK 20% PENSION HIKE

A move to bring retired federal civil servant pensions "up to a parity" was revealed today by H. R. Whalley, of Victoria, secretary of the Superannuated Federal Civil Servants.

A resolution asking that all pensioners receiving less than $100 monthly be raised to that amount and those receiving up to but not including $3,000 be raised 20 per cent has been forwarded to State Secretary Roch Olnard and other MPs.

Federal pensions are paid on an average of earnings the 10 years preceding retirement, and 35/50 of that is the amount received.

Pearson Favors 'Realistic' Co-Existence

West Must Be 'Trigger-Ready' Not 'Trigger-Happy' Mayors Told

WINDSOR, Ont. (BUP)—External Affairs Minister Lester B. Pearson said Monday night a "realistic" co-existence with Communism required the free nations to be "trigger ready" but not "trigger happy."

"If we lack power and vigilance, if we become careless and disunited in the free world, co-existence could soon be replaced by non-existence," Pearson told the Canadian Federation of Mayors and Municipalities. "But if we follow steadily but persistently the other course, peace through defensive collective strength, and patient, persistent diplomacy, I don't see why we shouldn't continue to exist alongside the Communist world."

Strength, Unity Resolve Needed

"But they undoubtedly also hope that we may ourselves weaken the strength, unity and resolve that make co-existence as essential for them as for us," Pearson said. "They will certainly do their best to encourage us in this suicidal tendency."

Pearson said that even if our armed might held off full-scale aggression, war could come in one of two ways. It could come by accident or miscalculation in a tragic misinterpretation of each others intentions or current moves, or it could come if the free nations lost their nerve and also lost touch with their moral values and patience, which he said was "highly unlikely."

To avoid this war by accident, he said, "we should, among other things, keep our diplomacy active and flexible, and remove, where we can, barriers, including psychological barriers to understanding."

"This means, of course, that we of the free world should know our own minds and should follow, together, a policy which in broad principle objectives and basic purpose is steady, fixed and firm," he said.

"It means that we should avoid provocation; that we should be trigger ready without being trigger happy; that while maintaining our strength, we should make it quite clear by work and action, that this strength will never be used for any aggressive purpose."

Israel Leaders Protest Arms Sale to Egypt by U.K.

JERUSALEM (Reuters)—Israeli leaders complained Monday night they had been left in the lurch by the west—even as Britain lifted a three-year-old embargo on the sale of arms to Arab Egypt.

The British action was reported as the Israeli parliament met to hear the bitterest criticism ever made by Prime Minister Moshe Sharett of the current western attitude to Israel.

Sharett attacked Britain for agreeing recently to evacuate the Suez Canal zone in Egypt and criticized the United States for approving the step.

The Canadian Environment

MR. O. J. FIRESTONE, economic adviser to the Canadian Department of Trade and Commerce, is not a politician but a non-partisan economic expert. In calculating Canada's economic prospects he has no political axe to grind. He states the facts as he sees them. His conclusions, therefore, are well worth considering.

In a recent address Mr. Firestone examined the common assumption that Canada has been prosperous of late years because the national government is spending so much money on defense. This, he says, is a fallacy. The nation's growth in the last quarter of a century, in his opinion, was "mainly population growth, increased industrial diversification, intensified resources development, new investment opportunities, a broadening and deepening of the consumer markets and expanding export markets." In plainer terms, Canada has learned how to use its huge natural wealth.

Canada is not dependent on defense spending, says Mr. Firestone, for another reason. This is a "young country. Many things remain to be done. We are still many years behind in building all the transportation, power and other utility facilities, the houses, commercial and community facilities required for a well-balanced and properly integrated economy with a predominantly urban character." That is to say, gigantic investment quite apart from armaments and other governmental expenditures are needed, and as they are made will continue to stimulate business generally.

What, then, are the prospects for the next generation of Canadians? Mr. Firestone answers that Canada could have, by 1975, a population 50 per cent higher than the present level, a working force three-fifths greater and a gross national production more than double the current figure of $24 billions.

Mr. Firestone's forecast is not based on government spending but on much larger and more stable factors, mainly on the growth of the national population. Our people, he says, are increasing much more rapidly than in the twenties and thirties and "when the large number of postwar babies reach marriageable age in the late 1960's and early 1970's there is likely to be another spurt in the birth rate and a house building and urban development boom that will have no parallel in Canadian economic history."

Mr. Firestone's final conclusion is thus stated: "There is little indication that Canada is likely to have in the next quarter of a century period a depression as severe as that of the 1930's."

All this confidence, of course, is based on the premise that the world will not be shattered again by war, that the world economy will be reasonably managed and that Canada will follow sensible policies at home. No economist can judge these possibilities better than anybody else. But in calculable economic terms, without political overtones, one of our ablest public servants tells us that our prospects are good—not because governments are spending lavishly but because the nation, after more than three centuries of struggle, is really beginning at last to master its environment.

A New Approach Is Needed

ACTION BY THE FRENCH NATIONAL Assembly yesterday effectively killed the plan for a joint army under the European Defense Community.

Under the plan, western Europe would have been defended against Soviet aggression by an armed force to which France, Italy, West Germany, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg would have contributed troops.

For three years France, wary of the provision which would have re-armed her traditional German enemy, had stalled ratification of the agreement, although the original proposal was French. German participation had been viewed by the United States and Britain—both firm supporters of the EDC plan—as essential to its success.

Tied in with EDC had been a parallel treaty which would return full sovereignty to West Germany. Both the measures have been defeated by the Assembly vote which choked off further discussion of the question.

Two problems thus still remain with the West: Construction of an effective defense for the nations concerned, and restoration of independence to West Germany.

France apparently recognizes that the Bonn republic will be re-armed in one way or another. Premier Mendes-France last week attempted unsuccessfully to persuade his prospective EDC partners to accept a watered-down form of the agreement. He has hinted that other alternatives may be possible, for France would not wish to see rearmament come—perhaps through direct United States action—with Paris having no say at all in the matter.

Equally pressing is the need to bolster the Adenauer Government of West Germany. The Chancellor has been a strong advocate of EDC and has tied his administration firmly to the plan despite heavy opposition from his political opponents. For the scheme now to collapse puts him in a serious position from which he must be rescued by early Western action.

What is obvious is that no technicalities or political manoeuvring can long delay West Germany's resumption of independence, or its rearmament. It becomes a question of how these objectives shall be accomplished—whether by the democracies' support and control, or without them. Further delay imperils Western security and plays into the communists' hands.

Paul Bunyan Strides Again

THE OLD DAYS OF THE shovel gang and the wheel barrow brigade are but gentle memories in these times of modern road making. A despatch tells of the machinery now being used to construct a section of the Ohio turnpike, and it speaks in a language Paul Bunyan would have appreciated.

Rushing the highway to completion are scoops that lift 7½ yards of earth at a bite. They fill an endless line of trucks and dumpers that haul away 20 yards at a load. A new mammoth tractor is 20 feet long and weighs 33 tons—its bulldozer blade alone weighs more than five tons. In five minutes it can pile up 90 tons of earth.

This is construction on a scale which only a few years ago would have been classed as imaginative exaggeration. It means that a new highway can march across country at a rapid pace—that virgin countryside overnight can turn into paved thoroughfare. It means, too, that man recognizes no limits to his inventiveness and his ingenuity in meeting new needs.

At faster and faster rates he is able to move from one point to another. What still remains a problem, perhaps, is what he is to do when he gets there.

But Who's Laughing?

THE PROBLEMS OF LIVING under communist rule have given rise to a macabre type of humor which could originate only in Europe. It is grim humor, calling for a rueful grin rather than a hearty laugh, for the eastern Europeans who pass these stories along in muttered asides are at once the victims as well as the observers of the communist system in action.

Thus there is the anecdote lately reported from Czechoslovakia in which a recruiting agent for the Party is encouraged with the promises: "Get two new members and we will reduce your taxes by half; get five and you won't have to pay anything. If you can enlist ten we'll give you a certificate stating that you have never been a member of the Communist Party."

Ten years ago the favorite story from behind the Iron Curtain told of the Party speaker who addressed his audience: "With completion of our first five-year plan you will all have motor cycles. After the second plan is completed you will all have cars. At the end of the third five-year plan you will all have airplanes. Just think, comrades. You will be able to hop in your plane, fly to Moscow, and get in the queue for a box of matches."

The accent may have changed in ten years. But the surface humor and the underlying bitterness are the same.

LOOSE ENDS

A Revolutionary Notion

SOME American genius, whose name escapes me, has lately invented a revolutionary new idea, certain to have incalculable affects in our society. He has discovered, in brief, that it is not necessary for the ordinary man to do everything for himself. Any man—if he is strong and intelligent enough—can let better men do things for him.

This idea is indeed revolutionary after the experience of recent years. For we have been living in an age where every man feels bound to make himself and his household almost totally self-contained.

SOCIETY swarms with surgeons whose skilled hands, after office hours, are used to make their own furniture; with lawyers who spend their days in litigation and their evenings in amateur plumbing; with tycoons accumulating money all week and painting worthless pictures at the weekend; with courtless and honest men who have installed clandestine factories of power tools in the basement and pursue their vice secretly, with the blinds drawn.

Society, in short, is littered with home-made products and artifacts of every sort that nobody wants, and for a time it appeared that modern man was returning to the primitive frontier in an automobile.

The American genius assures us that this collapse of civilization can be avoided if we use our heads.

A STUPID MAN, to be sure, can make everything for himself. Anybody can build a house, learn plumbing, master electricity or fix an automobile with a few weeks experience. My neighbor, Mr. Horace Snifkin, has done all these things of late and is still alive, though you would hardly suspect it to look at him.

The revolutionary revelation—that a man can hire other men to do all these things much better than he can do them—seems almost too good to be true. Yet, looking at Mr. Snifkin's masterpiece, his half-finished summer cottage and his own physical wreckage, I am bound to say there is something in this latest heresy.

ONE HAS in mind, for example, the case of an eminent medical practitioner, who recently took a holiday and decided to build a boat. He had listened to the siren song of the hobby industry, he could hardly wait to see his craft bobbing in the water. And thus suffering from the current mania, he went to work instead of relaxing from his year's labors.

What was the result? Well, the first result was what you would expect. He measured his projected boat with the minute care of an operator who could kill any of his patients by a surgical error of perhaps an eighth of an inch. He bought a costly piece of plywood and sawed it precisely as the plans directed.

DENNIS THE MENACE

"YOU WONT NEED THAT."

By BRUCE HUTCHISON

And of course it failed to fit by more than a foot.

BUT I must not pursue this little tragedy. Suffice it to say that, after working four solid weeks when he might have been enjoying himself, after unimaginable agonies of mind and body, he finally launched a boat.

It would be encouraging to say that the boat promptly sank, but it didn't. Unfortunately it floated. In consequence, this misguided man is stuck with an inferior, lop-sided boat which he must use for years to come simply to maintain his self-respect. He could have bought a much better boat for half the cost, and no labor, and enjoyed it throughout his holiday. The holiday has been wasted and only the botched product of toil and error remains to haunt the builder. He is a tragic figure simply because he lacks moral courage. He could not resist the pressure of society and the temptation to do things for himself.

A THOUSAND similar examples could be mentioned. I know two other eminent doctors who, if you please, have bought mechanical saws and, instead of sticking to their scalpels and sutures, are furiously assaulting the forest to gather a few cords of firewood which they could buy with an hour's labor in town. A distinguished lawyer hereabouts is painfully constructing a stone wall of hideous design and no use whatsoever when he could hire a stone mason for half a day's work in court.

Most of America thus writhes in sweat and often tears, to satisfy a delusion, and at the present rate the world economy will soon collapse for lack of a market for factory goods.

AT LAST we can see our way out of this economic, physical and spiritual dilemma. It is merely a question of intelligence. If a man is sufficiently intelligent he can avoid doing practically anything. But have we the intelligence and the inner courage to meet this challenge? Looking at my friends, and even at myself, I doubt it.

VALUES AND IGNORANCE

It is one thing to recognize the significance of economic factors in history. It is another thing entirely to see the history of religion or culture or even politics as almost a crude by-product of economic history. If it is true that we betray our real values by the things we think it worth while to know about the past, the things we regard as central to history, the Marxists are significant in what they choose to relegate to the fringe. Perhaps they stand as the symptoms of an age condemned, partly no doubt by its own errors, to a terrible preoccupation with the material side of life. In one sense also they stand as the voice of the disinherited, not yet schooled in the values of an ancient civilization, which they see chiefly as an object of attack.

Ottawa Prepares for a Bitter Battle Over British Wool

By VICTOR J. MACKIE
From Ottawa

A PREVIEW of the bitter battle, involving trade relations between Canada and the United Kingdom, scheduled to be fought out before the Canadian Tariff Board, was seen in the avalanche of briefs made public as August ended. The briefs were released to the press by opposing sides in the fight over the Canadian tariff on British wool textiles.

The wool textile industry in eastern Canada is demanding a higher tariff barrier against imports of British woolen textiles. The British want retained the preferential rate they now have. Western Canadians generally side with the British in this fight and are opposing the protectionist pressures which would erect obstacles to freer trade.

The western farmer who depends upon export sales for his livelihood and considers the United Kingdom one of his best customers, shudders at the thought of Canada raising tariffs against British products, a move which might arouse the British to impose retaliatory restrictions against imports of Canadian products.

The Tariff Board, under instructions from the federal government, is launching an inquiry into the desirability of raising the tariff against British woolen goods.

Under the existing tariff, the maximum duty that can be imposed on wool fabrics from Britain is 50 cents a pound. Mr. Abbott in his letter of instruction to the Tariff Board said he had received many representations from the Canadian woolen industry that because of price changes the 50-cent toll "has become anomalous and unrealistic."

Briefs now made public by members of that industry describe the tariff as "totally inadequate" to protect the Canadian manufacturer and his employee. The Canadian industry contends that it is in jeopardy despite able management and high efficiency and claims that changes that it is inefficient are groundless.

In 1950 the industry in Canada had supplied 70 per cent of the Canadian market, one brief from the industry said. But in 1953 it only supplied 57 per cent. This was a reduction of 7,000,000 yards or one-quarter of its 1950 production. During the same period British imports had risen by 3,000,000 yards.

LIMITED EFFECT
From 1950 to last June, 5,060 people had lost their jobs in the Canadian textile industry and 20 per cent of the remaining 10,000 workers were on short time. An increase in the tariff would have very limited effect on British trade and on the Canadian consumer, it was argued.

Submissions by representatives of the Canadian industry, contended that a "reasonable correction" of the duty would make only a slight change in the portion of British output sold in Canada. They argued it would be immediately offset to

Unity in Foreign Affairs

By ROSCOE DRUMMOND From Washington

IT IS already evident that the bi-partisan foundation of American foreign policy is going to be grievously strained before the Congressional electioneering goes very far.

Even the preliminary campaign skirmishing makes it clear that both sides will be stretching the truth out of all recognition. The Republicans are setting out to make the free-world position look vastly better than it really is. The Democrats are setting out to make it look vastly worse than it really is—each to the discredit of the other.

This is normal American politics, but it so happens that we are not living in a normal world. The dangers are, too great, the need of a trustworthy, steadfast American leadership is too great to permit "politics as usual" to run rampant during the next few months.

A divisive, misleading distortion of foreign policy issues may be halted before it goes too far. Fortunately both Adlai Stevenson, the Democratic party's 1952 Presidential nominee, and Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, independently but almost simultaneously, acted last week to put foreign policy action and foreign policy discussion on the bi-partisan level which the welfare of the nation requires.

LETTER TO MENDES-FRANCE

Mr. Stevenson performed a characteristically generous and statesmanlike act. It set a standard of conduct to which Republicans and other Democrats could usefully repair. As leader of the opposition party, he wrote a personal letter, first finding out that it would in no way embarrass Secretary Dulles, to French Premier Mendes-France. He told him of his own deep conviction that the European Defense Community—proposed by the United States and the United Kingdom—would further a strong and peaceful Europe and emphasized that American support of EDC was not a partisan matter in the United States, that "Secretary Dulles spoke for all of us."

The day before Mr. Stevenson's letter to Mendes-France was made public in Paris, Secretary Dulles was using his regular weekly press conference to remind the country—and his own party's campaign orators—that it was just ten years ago that the first formal structure for the bi-partisan conduct of foreign policy was established by Secretary of State Cordell Hull and himself, acting for Gov. Dewey, then the Republican Presidential nominee.

Mr. Dulles complimented the Democratic administrations for their contributions to a "non-partisan approach to foreign policy" and gave assurance that the extensive consultations he has held with Democratic leaders during the past two years would be continued. He will not make any political speeches in the campaign.

While Mr. Hull and Mr. Dulles created the first formal machinery for a non-partisan foreign policy, the non-partisan approach goes back at least to the 1940 Presidential campaign and the subsequent years. President Roosevelt and Wendell Willkie reached an agreed position on the introduction of the peace-time draft and even with Mr. Willkie supporting the draft it was saved by only one vote a year later in the House just a few months before Pearl Harbor. Mr. Willkie, Gov. Dewey and other Republican leaders also backed the Lend-Lease Act in 1941, and without their backing it might well have failed.

BY BOTH PARTIES

The fact is that from 1940 to 1954, the nation's major foreign policy actions which have contributed most to strengthening the United States and the free world, including aid to Greece and Turkey, the Marshall plan, the North Atlantic Treaty and the defense of Korea, have sprung from the best of the leadership of both parties and have been made possible by the Congressional support of both parties.

The coming Congressional campaign is no time to tear any of this down. Neither party will benefit by it because the country will be hurt by it. The strength of a bi-partisan foreign policy does not rest primarily upon bi-partisan consultation in Washington. It rests upon the unity within the country and upon the conviction that the leaders of both our political parties are putting the survival of America ahead of all partisan considerations. If reckless politicians undermine that unity it will not easily be restored.

Bi-partisanship does not mean that issues should not be vigorously and candidly debated. They should. It only means that differences of judgment should not be presented as differences of loyalty and that the large area of agreement between both parties concerning America's role in the world shall not be narrowed for temporary partisan advantage.

If "campaign oratory" reflects something of the spirit of Mr. Stevenson's and Mr. Dulles' words last week, we will be better off.

called that during the war the British industry was devoted largely to war production and consequently the Canadian industry expanded to meet the Canadian demands, which were not being supplied by Britain.

"Any suggestion that the U.K. should be permanently restricted to the market to which it was reduced by its war services seems to us unfortunate," said the British brief. It added the suggestion that post-war plant expansion by the Canadian industry predicated on the abnormal post-war demand might have been imprudent.

The British industry maintained that the plight of the Canadian textile mills was not the result of competition from the British imports. It was due to the fact that the wool fabric market appeared to be saturated; that world prices had tumbled and that there was heavy competition from synthetic fabrics.

DISTINCT ADVANTAGES

The Canadian wool industry already enjoyed distinct advantages over the British, advantages which should be sufficient to enable it to compete, the British brief suggested.

But it was on the point of its probable effect on United Kingdom and Canadian trade relations that the British laid their heaviest emphasis. They pointed out that the cloths affected had enabled the U.K. to earn over $30,000,000 per annum with which to purchase Canadian goods. A reduction in sales to Canada would shake the confidence of British exporters and arouse demands for retaliatory action as well as possibly reducing British investments in Canada.

End of the Tether

THERE is a certain malicious poetic justice pervading our house. The junior members have unearthed or listened to a radio flashback of that ancient ditty, "It Ain't Gonna Rain No Mo', No Mo'."

Myself, when young, sang it "Ain't Gonna Rain No Mo'."—sang it 30 years ago to the distraction of my parents. There isn't much time to the thing, but if it lacks melody it certainly has lots of verses. Clementine, with all its varying offshoots, is a mere, short snort by comparison.

Even if the summer had not been the kind of summer it has been, the senior members of our household had had more than enough of "It Ain't Gonna Rain" by the early part of July. We're still getting it—that and precipitation too.

This, I suppose, is one of the eccentric wheels in the mechanism of life which keeps adults constantly off balance and a half-step away from the screaming meemies. But it is poetic justice. We did this to our parents. As we have done, so are we being done by.

But it so happens we have developed, if not an antidote to this small mental poison, at least a counter-irritant. We who belong to another generation find, at this stage of the season sometimes called summer, a vicious satisfaction in singing the first line or two of "School days, school days, dear old golden rule days."

Now the psychologists may tell you that constant repetition of that phrase of the particular song has an unfortunate influence on children. There's an element of torture in it, like the dropping of water on the bound victim's forehead. They're right, by golly. And it satisfies the sadist in me to see the small ones squirm. They're tied tight by regulations which make the Tuesday after Labor Day the beginning of a comparative millennium—a comparative millennium, that is, for parents who have suffered little teen-agers for two full months.

There was a time when Labor Day marked the death of the year's happy season for me. It was the end of those golden days that used to be summer. Now I greet it with a smile. And when I pass teacher acquaintances in the street, I smile at them, too—a mean, nasty little smile that says in its own mute way, "You're for it, brother and sister. You're for it."

This, of course, is just my way of expressing the opinion that the job of rearing the young is a partnership arrangement between the school and the home. I want the teachers to have their share of this great responsibility. As they say at Normal School graduations, theirs is a noble task, doubly ennobled when it removes from the home the continuing repetition of "It Ain't Gonna Rain No Mo'."

Over the years, I've had certain reservations on various aspects of the education that is provided the young. By and large, I believe the British Columbia system is good. But there have been certain features on which I've thought improvement might be shown.

Now, at the end of the vacation period, teachers all seem to be white knights. They have the look of a gallant rescue force, out to save households everywhere from the nerve-racking strain of kids idle too long on holiday, surfeited with their vacation pastimes and overdue for the disciplines of study.

HOMEWORK

And when it comes to homework, I'm not too worried about the youngsters being overburdened by the stuff of their books. For the young baseball broadcast enthusiast, I think lessons will be more beneficial than Lassen. For the young devotee to Hollywood's pulp industry, I think British Columbia's course in "Effective Living"—with all the criticism heaped upon it—will be more valuable than her recent diet of screen magazines.

For the parents, a little of the serenity that comes from well-occupied youngsters will be a thing of bliss. No wonder we sing "School Days."

Welfare Cheques Set New Record

More British Columbia families and old-age pensioners received Department of Health and Welfare cheques this month than ever before.

A total of $5,789,949 in welfare payments was distributed to 464,460 British Columbians during August, the largest amount ever paid in this province.

W. R. Bone, Regional Director, Department of National Health and Welfare, disclosed the figures today.

Of the pumber receiving payments, $7,145 were Old Age Security pensioners and the remaining 377,317 were children in 183,832 families.

The mayor said he took the occasion as an opportunity of asking about the signal lights at Comox Road and the bridge approach, known already as "Suicide Corner."

"They promised to have an engineer up here within two days if we put the request in writing," said the mayor. There have been at least two car crashes at that point to date.

CHEMAINUS—Big winner in the fourth annual Rod and Gun Club salmon derby here Sunday was Henry Holman of Westholme, whose catch of a 20-pound, 10-ounce spring salmon topped the list of the 171 fish weighed in during the day.

Mr. Holman won a 14-foot boat with outboard motor.

The winning fish was taken off Tent Island. Mr. Holman reported that he hooked the fish at about 6:30 a.m., but did not land it until an hour later. He was using a Mac Squid plug with a pound of weight. During one part of the struggle to land the fish his rod broke and he was forced to reel the tired fish in with only half a rod.

Other big winners were Bob McDowell, who won a tent with

Council Supports Civil Defense In Protest Against Budget Cut

NANAIMO—City council Monday threw its weight behind a civil defense request that its original expenditure estimate be restored, promising an appeal to the provincial secretary for the full $2,960 asked instead of a $1,700 cut.

The amended estimate submitted from Victoria, said civil defense officials here, "is totally inadequate. Cost of rent, travel, and incidentals would amount to more than the cut. We would be quite unable to operate with that little."

Ald. Elsie Hall, in moving support of council, said "civil defense people here are very hard workers. They do it all for no pay. I think we should give them our full support."

The petition by Mill Street residents asking for reopening of the street closed by approach to the new Pearson bridge was defeated. Streets committee, chaired by Ald. R. Fawcett, said it would be impossible this year to reopen Mill Street since the cost would be between $6,000 and $8,000, for which there was no provision in the current budget. It recommended, however, that a start be made to build up the subgrade by inviting voluntary dumping on the site of the diversion and that completion of the work be recommended to incoming council as "one of the first jobs to be undertaken in the new year."

Contracts Awarded To Paint Schools

SIDNEY—Painting contracts covering five schools have been awarded by School District No. 63, according to A. G. Blair, secretary-treasurer.

Painting of Brentwood elementary school will be carried out by Claude Howard, who also was awarded the Prospect Lake elementary job.

J. M. McPherson will do work on Keating elementary and Patricia Bay elementary, while M. Wicks will carry out the Mount Newton high contract.

Total cost of the work is $1,046.

FAIR DIVISION

Acting on a suggestion of the Greater Nanaimo Water Board city council arrived at an equitable division of expenses between Harewood Fire Protection District and the water board for the year. On the agreed 80-20 basis, Nanaimo city will be required to pay $17,509.50 for a six month's supply and Harewood $1,945.50 for three month's water supply.

H. Stuart Telford Nanaimo Manager for B.C. Telephone

NANAIMO—H. Stuart Telford, a veteran of 30 years in the telephone business, has been appointed district plant manager for the British Columbia Telephone Company here.

He succeeds R. F. Kaitenbach, who has left the company's employ.

Mr. Telford, who comes to Nanaimo from Nelson, where he was district plant manager, as well as at Nelson. He started with the telephone company in 1924 in Vancouver.

SERVICE IN VICTORIA

In the early thirties, he spent some time in Victoria, as a member of the central office maintenance staff. In 1934, he returned to Vancouver as a PBX repairman. During the war, he was associated with the long distance operations of the company, centred in Vancouver. After three years as toll wire chief at Victoria, beginning in 1948, Mr. Telford was promoted to the position of district plant manager at Nelson in 1951.

He will take up his duties here Wednesday. With Mr. Telford supervising plant matters only, Lionel Huxtable, district commercial manager, will continue to handle the business matters throughout the same area.

James Asselstine, district traffic chief, will continue to supervise the traffic department's activities.

H. STUART TELFORD

He was district plant manager, will have supervision of all plant matters for the Nanaimo district, which includes the area from Duncan north to Courtenay, and the west coast of Vancouver Island, as well as Gabriola, Thetis and Hornby Islands.

Applying the Right Combination

Victoria Shamrocks backed Geordy Johnston's goal-tending with a solid defense Monday night in Vancouver and came out with a tight 8-7 victory over PNE Indians in the best-of-seven Intercity Lacrosse League finals. The victory gave Shamrocks a 2-0 lead in games and made them favorites to

Brundage Gives Okay To Reds' Sport Program

NEW YORK (AP)—Avery Brundage, president of the International Olympic committee, said today the Russians asked him their gigantic sports program abides by the amateur rule—and I saw nothing on my trip to make me question this.

Paying his own expenses, Brundage made a three-week tour of Russia that took him to Georgia and to remote collective farms in the provinces. "They probably have some excesses just as we have in college football," said Brundage, who added that his net impression was favorable.

Brundage found to his surprise that the Russians are not committed to compete in the 1956 Olympics at Melbourne. Diplomatic relations between Russia and Australia have been broken off over a spy case.

Brundage told a press conference here he was impressed by the enormous program of sports he saw throughout Russia—vast stadiums filled for gymnastic shows, running tracks along side factories and on farms, pictures of famous athletes displayed prominently and tourists playing chess as they waited for planes.

Brundage had an interview with Nicolai Romanov, head of Russia's department of physical culture, and presented him with clippings from American and western European papers stating that Russian athletes are supported by the state and as professionals should not compete with amateurs in the Olympics.

Romanov denied any professionalism and said Russian athletes must place their education and their jobs ahead of sports.

Brutus Hamilton, University of California coach who trained the U.S. Olympic team in 1952, said there are many such schools in the U.S.

Hamilton spoke at the Olympic training plan clinic in conjunction with the Canadian National Exhibition's inter-provincial track and field meet. Hamilton, Ken Doherty of the United States and Hal Brown of the University of Toronto, are conducting clinics for 225 coaches and athletes from across Canada.

"I believe it is no longer necessary for Canadian schoolboys to leave Canada in order to get the best of coaching and good competition," Hamilton said.

The row has arisen over Pollard's decision to play with the Lions while still under contract to the Eagles. Donoghue, in a long-distance telephone interview with the Vancouver Sun, accused Stukus of unfairness.

He said the Eagles would take their case before an American court because "they cannot expect justice in Canada."

"Stukus gave his word that if we sent a photostatic copy of Pollard's contract, he would return him."

"We sent the photostat but Pollard played anyway."

Rocks Trim Tribe Again; Lions Just 'Don't Have It'

Roughies in Handy Win As Lions' Line Falts

Saskatchewan 17, B.C. Lions 0

By BILL WALKER

EMPIRE STADIUM, Vancouver—The British Columbia football Lions apparently have only so much to go around. And right now it doesn't seem enough for the gruelling grind that faces them in the Western Interprovincial Football Union.

This was in complete evidence here Monday night as their vaunted line was torn asunder by Saskatchewan Roughriders in the Lions' second start of the campaign. And it would be foolish indeed for anyone to say today that the Lions deserved better than the 17-0 lacing they took from the Roughies.

Stuke Wasn't Kidding, Either

"We just didn't have it" was only a question of time until the Roughies would break through.

A fumble by Larry Isbell, who was a tremendous figure in the win, stopped the visitors short of a possible score in the first period, but they were soon knocking on the door again.

Smashing through the middle and skirting the ends, the Roughies marched in five plays from the Lions' 53 to the 14, from where Joe Aguirre kicked a field goal.

A booming quick kick by Isbell, the like of which kept the Lions in their own end most of the game, accounted for the Roughies' fourth point before the half.

Playing where the shadow of their goal posts would normally be, the Lions never did get untracked in the first half, and it

Marlowe Did the Heavy Work

Led by Bobby Marlowe, who was a one-man running gang, the Roughriders continued to rip the Lions' line to shreds in the third quarter, and it was two gains by Marlowe which set up the fifth point. Ray Enright being rouged on Isbell's kick.

Whatever hopes of retribution the Lions may have entertained themselves were soon forgotten as Doug Reid, on the first play after the kickoff, fumbled. Isbell then calmly stepped back and hit Mac Speedie with a 25-yard touchdown pass and the Lions trailed 10-0.

The former Cleveland star made a falling grab of the ball as he outran the Lions' safety man. Aguirre converted.

It was still Marlowe as the mainstay of the Saskatchewan attack as the third period ended, but it took an interference call on an Isbell's pass to the 24-yard line to set up the Roughriders' second major. Hottie of the Lions was called for pushing and two plays later Ken Carpenter went through the middle for 11 yards to score.

In contrast to the powerful blocking of the Roughies, the Lions seemed weak. Isbell's kicking, especially in the first half, was the predominating factor while the Lions, as against Winnipeg, were never able to maintain any semblance of a sustained attack although quarterback Johnny Mazur and Gerry Tuttle completed 10 of 18 forward pass attempts.

Still the shining light for the Lions was fullback Al Pollard. Though obviously overworked, he was the only consistent back in the Lions' line.

STAMPS ROLL OVER 'PEG'

Bombers Real 'Blue' And Little Wonder

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Winnipeg Blue Bombers have reason to feel blue today.

Defeated in three Western Interprovincial Football Union games this season, the Bombers absorbed their first defeat in five years Monday night at the hands of Calgary Stampeders who dusted off last year's Grey Cup finalists 41-0 before nearly 16,000 fans in Calgary.

It was Winnipeg's worst drubbing since 1949 when white-washed 47-0 by Saskatchewan Roughriders.

Calgary's performance was more convincing than the last outing when they defeated Saskatchewan 34-0. The Stamps roamed up and down the field almost at will. Only once did the Bombers penetrate Calgary's 30-yard line. And that was late in the final quarter. Stampeders led 21-0 at the half.

Tom Miner, import end from Tulsa University, put on a brilliant kicking display for 16 points. He booted four field goals and converted four of the five Calgary majors.

Another import, halfback Eddie Macon, turned a 60-yard run and a 20-yard run into touchdowns while Glen Christian intercepted one of Jack Jacobs' passes for a major.

Keith Spait, used as signal-caller in the fourth when Calgary tried reserve players, and Ivan Livingstone scored the other majors.

Winnipeg ended up with a minus 24 in the yards rushing department. Calgary gained 332. The Stamps made 99 in the air on six of 13 pass attempts while Winnipeg went for 58 yards on nine of 22 attempts.

Jets Boxla Champs

Nanaimo 11, Foul Bay 5

Nanaimo Jets are the Vancouver Island senior B lacrosse champions.

Jets annexed the Island crown Monday night at Nanaimo with a strong display in whipping league champion Foul Bay, 11-5, to take the best-of-five championship series in four games.

Bays had previously won the league title with a sudden-death victory over Jets.

The Island titlists are now scheduled to vie with Rossland for the provincial crown at Rossland over the Labor Day week-end.

Receiving yeoman service from goalkeeper Alf Shuker and checking viciously, Jets took a 21 first-quarter margin and then roared into a 6-2 lead at half-time. They led 7-4 going into the final canto.

Shuker, mainstay of the club this season, was in fine form, blocking four breakaways while his team was a man short in the final quarter and stopping a total of 18 shots throughout the game.

Bays appeared disorganized and repeatedly lost the ball in the Nanaimo zone as the up-Islanders set up a solid defense.

Jets took the first game of the series, 8-5, dropped the second in Victoria, 12-10, and then won, 11-5, in the third contest, also at Victoria.

Scorers follow:
Nanaimo—Reg White 3, Tom White 2, Glen Linford 2, Terry Rodway 1, Joe White 1, R. Main 1, Norm Folia 1. Total—11.

Foul Bay—Art Green 1, Coates 1, Norm Kovalyuk 1, Jack Milburn 1, Reid 1. Total—5.

Rocks, Bombers Resume Series

Shamrocks are now scheduled to clash with Blue Bombers in the second game of a best-of-three series for the city diaper league lacrosse title Wednesday afternoon at 2 at Stevenson Park.

The game was previously scheduled for Monday but was rained out. Shamrocks lead the series in games, 1-0.

In the consolation event, Cougars meet Tigers at 3.

Tenpin League To Roll Wednesday

By RON COULTER

Gibson's Bowladrome Commercial Tenpin League will again bowl Wednesday nights starting at 9 this season.

At a league meeting Monday night at the alleys, it was decided to continue to roll Wednesday nights despite the fact that several of last year's bowlers have stated their intentions of attending hockey games on Wednesday nights this season.

It was previously believed that the league would be unable to function if forced to roll Wednesday nights.

However, of the 16 teams represented Monday night, 14 signified that they would retain their franchises in the tenpin circuit.

All last year's clubs will be given first option to re-enter, but if their entry is not confirmed by Sept. 8 new entries will be accepted. The league is tentatively scheduled to open Sept. 22.

All last season's teams will be contacted in the near future toward re-entering the league this year.

The league schedule will again be split into two halves and there will be no bowling the nights of December 22 and 29.

Wilbur Webb was elected president of the league. Bill Mowatt renamed vice-president, and Bill Brown, Howard Damasko and Roy Bridger were selected as auditors.

The president and vice-president will appoint a secretary-treasurer. Ian McKeachie declined re-election this season the secretary-treasurer's post. Past president is Ken Smith.

Three other meetings will be held this week at Gibson's. Wednesday night the Mixed Fivepin League will meet at the alleys, while the Mixed Tenpin League and the Financial Fivepin League meet on Thursday night. All meetings start at 8.

Irish Take Two-Game Lead; 3rd Game Here Wednesday

Shamrocks 8, Indians 7

By DENNY BOYD

VANCOUVER—Stan Joseph, the stoic, gifted goalie of the PNE Indians, has not become famous among lacrosse circles because of any mistakes he makes. But he made one here Monday night that may haunt him until his dying day.

Almost three minutes into the last quarter of a spine-tingling second game of the best-of-seven Intercity Lacrosse League finals, Shamrocks were nursing a 7-5 lead. Indians were pressing.

Archie Browning made a sensational pass play to set Whitey Severson up for a shot on goal, but Joseph stopped it.

In his haste to get Indians on the offensive, Joseph tried to flip a fast pass down floor. But the slender Browning, haunting the goal-crease, sprang high in the air to intercept Joseph's ill-timed pass, and by the time Browning landed on the floor the ball was in the net behind a greatly surprised Joseph. At the time, the goal gave Rocks an 8-5 lead, but when the final whistle blew, it was all that separated the clubs in the tense 8-7 battle.

stop didn't have a really bad quarter. Joseph, on the other hand, stopped only one out of five shots in the second quarter, when a good deal of the starch was taken out of his club.

Johnston played well enough to cause Indian coach Jake Proctor, not a Johnston booster, to remark, "That guy has to have a bad night some time. And then we'll pour 30 goals behind him."

It was 11 at the end of the first quarter and Shamrocks battled uphill to share a 5-5 tie at the half.

With Johnston kicking out the only four shots flung at him, Shamrocks accounted for the only two goals of the third quarter and were holding their 8-5 lead when Browning made his dramatic assault on Joseph.

Browning, who scored another goal when he out-guessed three Indians on his own, and Jack Bionda, the target of some lousy checking, topped the Shamrocks on the offense while Bobby Monaghan and Nip O'Hearn turned in strong defensive games.

Veteran Mel Jones, who scored two goals and was a demon on loose balls, topped the Indian team.

Solid When They Had To Be

A crowd of about 1,500 saw the fast, and often scrumbly, game. Indians' defensive-type game forced Shamrocks into numerous errors in the first half and their shooting was erratic throughout the entire game.

But, in the second half, they had too much sustained drive for Indians to withstand and Johnston was always the figure lurking in the background, frustrating Indians' comeback attempts.

One Time Roughies Were Stopped

Halfback Bobby Marlowe was one of the biggest thorns in the side of the B.C. Lions' football club at Vancouver Monday night as the Saskatchewan Roughriders hung a 17-0 loss on the B.C. squad. Yet there was once he didn't fare so well. Here Lions' Bud Hottie (90), tackles Marlowe in second quarter after four-yard gain and shortly before Joe Aguirre's field goal which gave Roughies their first points. Other players, left to right, are Lions' George Klein (80), Don Kiloh of the Riders and Jim Chambers (78) of the Lions. (Times Photo by Bill Halkett.)

On The OUTDOOR FRONT

With DENNY BOYD

To at least one American visitor in Victoria, our weather is of secondary importance.

We were talking fishing to Senator Robertson of Cody, Wyoming, Monday morning over the phone. It was dull, foggy and the rain was coming down in jiggers. It was the kind of Monday morning that invariably signals the start of a miserable week.

After talking fishing with the Senator for a while, we tentatively inquired as to how he liked our weather.

"Weather?" the Senator inquired. "Oh, well, I hadn't given it much thought. You see, there is a slack tide in two hours and Claude Creed and I are going to do some light tackle fishing today in Saanich Inlet. If the tide is right and the fishing is good, who cares about the weather."

And certainly, the fishing has been good to the Senator in this, his fourth annual visit to Victoria's fishing hot-spots. Last year he gave the coho population a beating and picked up a 23½-pound spring to boot. So far this year he has picked up 21 salmon, most of them coho, ranging in weight from 6 to 12 pounds. Senator Robertson has been fishing with Brentwood's Claude Creed, whom he calls "a companionable and very clever guide."

A light tackle lover, Senator Robertson has been using about 150 feet of line but can't wait until the coho start running well enough so that he can go after them with 50 feet of line and a bucktail fly. "That is the greatest fun I have ever had fishing," he says. On Monday, Senator Robertson and Creed were going after the salmon with live minnows.

Sensor Robertson recently returned from a holiday in Florida where he had some great sport fishing for pompano with light tackle. "But you can't beat salmon fishing on light tackle," he says.

In his home state of Wyoming, Senator Robertson fishes for trout in streams and lakes. He says, with regards to Vancouver Island, "This is beautiful country you people have here; it's too bad more people in Wyoming don't know about it."

It is hoped that this isn't another false alarm but it looks as if the coho run is on the way in. Reports on the week-end fishing indicate a terrific upsurge in the number of coho seen and taken.

Around Satellite Channel, Arbutus Island, Deep Cove and Brentwood; higher up the Island at Qualicum and Parksville, the silver-sided torpedos are biting and, best of all, they are biting at bucktails. They are running up to eight pounds.

The old master of the bucktail (green and white, of course), Charlie Guiget picked up coho limits on Saturday and Sunday off Arbutus. But Charlie could catch coho in a bottle of stagnant swamp water.

Jim Tang and Andy Anderson, spending a sea-going week's holiday, did well off Arbutus, and Stan Williams, after going from Brentwood up to Mill Bay, Cowichan Bay, Separation Point and back to Brentwood again in search of coho, finally found them right back in Brentwood when he returned. Fishing a small Martin plug, Stan picked up four eight-pounders off Sesans Island.

Gordy Ball and I picked up three nice coho off Brothie Ledge last Thursday. I got two, one on herring strip and the other on a Mac Squid plug and Gordy picked up a wild fighter on a minnow and flasher. There was plenty of feed out there and plenty of coho and grise. Also, plenty of dogfish.

Higher up the Island, hot action is reported in the Alberni Canal with some fine springs being taken. They are still hauling in the lunkers at Comox and Victoria's Ernie Dyer recently returned from there with five fish that totaled 210 pounds.

Gavilan Favored In Title Match

By JACK CUDDY
PHILADELPHIA (UP)—Kid Gavilan will receive a flat $40,000 for his defense of the welterweight crown against Johnny Saxton at Connie Mack Stadium Wednesday night regardless of the gate and TV money.

That fact was learned today as Cuban Gavilan and New Yorker Saxton prepared to break camp and head for Philadelphia.

The "forty grand" has been guaranteed by Frank (Blinky) Palermo, Saxton's manager. However, promoter Herman Taylor and chairman Frank Wiener of the Pennsylvania boxing commission disclaimed any knowledge of the private deal.

As far as Taylor and Wiener are concerned, Gavilan will receive 40 per cent of all net receipts for his eighth defense of the 147-pound crown, and sixth-ranking Saxton will get 20 per cent.

Taylor of Philadelphia, co-promoting with Jim Norris of the International Boxing Club, expects from 16,000 to 18,000 fans for the nationally televised bout, and a gate ranging between $70,000 and $80,000. In addition, the TV sponsor pays $40,000. Ticket prices run from $2.50 to $12.

A gross gate of approximately $55,000 will be needed for Palermo and Saxton to break even after paying the $40,000 guarantee, even though they take all 60 per cent of the net TV and gate proceeds.

Meanwhile, 28-year-old Gavilan was favored at 11-5 in light bout, and a gate ranging between $70,000 and $80,000 would be more lively and the price would be shorter if Philadelphia sportsmen had confidence that the challenger would be aggressive and force the fight.

Eskimos Get Johnny Bright

CALGARY (CP)—Import fullback Johnny Bright has been loaned for one year to Edmonton Eskimos, manager Bob Robinson of Calgary Stampede announced Sunday night.

"He's gone to Edmonton strictly on a loan basis," Robinson said. "We already have his release from Esks, dated 1955."

A two-minute silence was observed Saturday in the memory of Jack Regan, famed rifle marksman who died Saturday morning.

MARKETS SUMMARY

Toronto in Steep Slide Toward Close

TORONTO (CP)—The stock market continued a general decline toward today's close—the steepest slide in almost three months. Trading, however, was only moderate.

Industrial losses outnumbered gains three to one at 2 p.m. All industrial groups were weak. Losses in individual issues became greater as the session wore on and only a few came to $1 or more.

Pacific Petroleum and Canada Oil Lands led western oil stocks. Most losses were small. Senior base-metals eased in almost a solid line and Hudson Bay was off $1. Senior golds showed not a single gain and all other gold groups were weak. McIntyre lost more than $1.

Heaviest trading was in some uranium and Manitowug issues. Easier were the sharp climbers of recent sessions—Woolrich, New Mylanque, New Delhi, Meta Uranium and Marbenor.

Wall Street Slips From Recent Peak

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market dropped steadily today with most major divisions at their weakest in the late afternoon. It was one of the biggest falls of the year.

The decline extended to about $4 a share in some instances, and losses of 1 to 3 points were common.

Aircrafts were lower from the beginning. Steels and railroads soon joined the fall. Those three sections were the most active in the list. All other divisions, however, were lower.

A week ago Friday the stock market reached a 25-year peak, then started an orderly but, more moderate decline. Brokers are inclined to regard the drop so far as a normal reaction from the peak.

Canadian stocks were led lower by Hiram Walker, off 1 1/2. Canadian Pacific and McIntyre each was down 1/2. Dome Mines and International Nickel and Distillers Seagram, each down 1/2.

Giant Yellowknife, Canadian issue on the American stock exchange, eased 1/2.

Island Poultry, Flowers Win at PN Exhibition

Many 'Firsts' for City Exhibitors

Bert Pritchett of Victoria topped Vancouver Island entries in poultry and pigeon competitions at the Pacific National Exhibition this week.

Pritchett, with 13 pigeons and three fantails entered, won nine first prizes, two seconds, one third and two special awards, it was announced today.

Following close on Pritchett's heels was Ray Faganella of Nanaimo. Entering 16 birds, Faganella picked up eight firsts, seven seconds and one special prize.

Other Vancouver Island winners included:

Arthur Lord, Galliano, 16 pigeons entered, three firsts, three seconds, three thirds and one special; F. H. Staverman, Langford Lake, two birds entered, one first, one third, one special; P. Hoole, Saanich, 12 birds entered, four firsts, two seconds; J. L. Lang, Victoria, 14 birds, six firsts, three seconds; Arthur Adams, Victoria, 12 poultry entered, four firsts, one third and five special awards.

Another Victoria man, Angus McKay, Olympia Avenue, won six first prizes at the exhibition's flower show.

Mr. McKay took four firsts in the sweet pea exhibit, another first in the carnation competition and one in the perennial display.

Active Pass Massed With Fishing Craft

Ships weaved their way through Active Pass Monday in a not-too-successful attempt to avoid the salmon purse seiners busy making what might be an all-time record haul of sockeye salmon.

In addition to the congestion in the turbulent waters of Active Pass, ships had to "run a gauntlet" of gillnets approaching the mouth of the Fraser River.

"The ship I was on had to zigzag at dead slow speed among the boats in an effort to avoid causing damage," said one Vancouver-bound Victorian.

"One net, though, disappeared under the ship. I don't know if it came up."

"Not far from us a freighter was steaming straight ahead and letting the fishermen take the consequences," he said.

The fishermen have been preying on the fabulous Adams River run to the Fraser.

By terms of the International Salmon Fisheries Commission, United States and Canadian fleets must be permitted equal catches. Since the fish this year traveled in Canadian waters, the Canadians made a big lead that the United States boats have been given time to equal.

The Active Pass fishing Monday was a continuation of the hot pace set last week when the run was passing Sooke, and fishermen were reported making more than $1,000 each per set.

Fishing continued until midnight with seiners catching the fish and packers stowing them as fast as they could go.

Only casualty was the seiner Zeballos that was rammed in the fog by the West Isle, and had to be towed to Campbell's Beach.

The ban imposed on seiners at midnight Monday, and at 8 a.m. today on gillnetters, will last until Sept. 7, and may be extended, depending on catches being made by the United States fleet in northern Puget Sound.

Island Men in RCAF Jet Show

One Victorian and two Vancouver Island men are listed in the travelling jet aircraft squadron which will give a demonstration over Pat Bay airport Wednesday, starting at 3 p.m.

LAC C. A. Warwick, 22, Victoria, is a ground crewman with the group. FO Peter Hawkes, 23, Duncan, will be one of the pilots in new CF-100 all-weather jet fighters which will scream over Victoria in a fly past during the show.

LAC N. G. Guize, Nanaimo, is also a ground crewman with the squadron. The squadron is touring from St. Hubert, Quebec.

Highlight of the event will be the attempt, weather permitting, of FO Al McIlreath, 21, to break the sound barrier. He will dive a Sabre jet at about 720 miles per hour in his attempt. The resulting concussion and the sight of a plane zooming past with the noise of its passage half a mile behind it, thrilled huge crowds at Sea Island Sunday.

A huge RCAF transport, a C119 Flying Boxcar, will be open to display at airport. A fly-past of jets will take place over the city but the low-level aerobatics will only be seen in vicinity of Pat Bay airstrip.

Car Thief Takes Nothing But Best

The thrill of putting the first miles on a new $7,200 car fell to a daring thief who drove a Lincoln hard-top convertible from Gladwell Motors Pandora Avenue showrooms overnight.

Police discovered the garage doors open early today and the firm verified that the expensive car was gone. Tire marks showed where the car had been driven across the sidewalk and north on Quadra.

Police found the car at noon on Gorge Vale Golf Course. It was jammed between two trees and in a damaged condition.

ASK The TIMES

Q—Will you please inform me if there is any place in the city where one can get a passport renewed? It was issued exactly six years ago in London, England, and is a joint one and is now expired one year. We are British born, in London, Eng., and have now become Canadian Citizens and would like to keep the passport up to date.

—M. F. B.

A—As you and your husband are Canadian citizens, you will encounter no difficulty in obtaining a Canadian passport. Immigration Department officials here inform the Times the proper course is for you to write to the Department of External Affairs at Ottawa.

Q—The Archbishop of Canterbury is scheduled to arrive in Victoria Sept. 7 for a brief visit. Is it true the Archbishop of York was in this city some years ago?—F. G. M.

A—Yes, Most Rev. and Rt. Hon. Cyril Foster Garrett preached at the morning service in Christ Church Cathedral Oct. 2, 1949. He had visited the U.S. and arrived at the Pacific Bay Airport from San Francisco. During his brief stay here he was a guest of Lieutenant Governor Charles A. Banks and Mrs. Banks at Government House. He went from here to Vancouver.

Answers wishing a question answered is invited to send the problem along to The Times, addressed to "Ask The Times" Editor. Questions and answers will be published daily.

All questions should deal with matters of fact and be of general interest. The Times does not undertake to solve conundrums.

BETWEEN TIMES

By MONTE ROBERTS

Words and musing, while walking home in a light drizzle

No, thanks, Pete . . . don't want a lift today—going to walk home . . . need the exercise . . . that's the trouble with most of us in this motorized age. We don't even walk to the corner store. We're getting soft, all of us. Look at all those lazy people waiting for the bus.

No, thanks, Bob . . . nice of you to stop, but I'm walking home . . . no, I won't get wet . . . this is only a Scotch mist . . . or should I have said Scottish? Never can remember the difference between Scotch and Scottish, except one comes in a bottle and costs too much . . .

Wonder if the government will ever make any real, solid reductions in whisky prices? Guess not . . . it needs the money. Oh, well, must make the drinkers feel proud, to know they supply so much money to the government . . .

Oh, hello, there. No thanks, I'm walking home . . . oh, no, it's not really going to rain hard . . . I'll be okay . . . goodness, the motorists are friendly today. Never saw that man before in my life, and he offered to drive me right home. He must be a part-time pedestrian. Why is it that people who drive a lot seem to make the worst pedestrians? You'd think a motorist temporarily on foot would give other motorists a break on the right-hand turn . . . don't honk your horn at me, you bum. You can darn well wait until I've crossed and I'm not hurrying for anybody . . .

Hmmm . . . this Scotch or Scottish mist is getting a little heavy . . . guess I'll accept the next offer of a lift . . . one of the neighbors is bound to come along soon.

Where does all the rain come from, anyway? What did they teach us at school? Something about the ocean going up into clouds and coming down again . . . why doesn't the ocean stay where it is, instead of galivanting around the sky . . . boy, it IS wet.

Think I'll flag down this car and ask for a ride . . . why, the selfish so-and-so . . . didn't even slow down . . . there's a car waiting for a stop light . . . could you give me a lift, please, mister, I'm getting wet . . .

The nerve of the guy! Just because he's going in the opposite direction, he wouldn't give me a ride.

Oh, well, at least I won't need to have a bath when I get home. I'm having one now . . . there's a bust!

Can you imagine that! Wouldn't stop just because this isn't a bus stop . . .

Never mind, I'm getting healthy exercise—aaaa—chew!

DROODLES

Because this Doodle is subject to many different interpretations, it illustrates what makes Doodling such a fascinating way to Waste Time. You can draw (or Doodle) one and then sit and stare at it for days on end (or in a standing position if you prefer) trying to figure out various things for it. Doodling can eventually become a compulsive habit like smoking, scratching or Running-Down Neighbors. I recently received a letter from a lady—fan who said that Doodling had caused her husband to leave home. It wasn't a long letter—just a simple thank-you note. It's little things like this that make me feel somehow that it's all worth while.

CFCT ALUMNUS

Ex-Victoria Announcer Visits Here

The son of the founder of Vancouver Island's first broadcasting station, a young man who has made his own career in radio in the United States, returned to his home town Monday for a short visit.

He is Clifford E. Deaville, son of George Deaville, Langford Lake, who established radio station CFCT in 1926.

Clifford was one of Victoria's first radio announcers. He put Bill Herbert, now with the CBC, and David M. Armstrong, owner of CKDA, on the air when they joined CFCT. CFCT was the forerunner of CJVI.

He has been working in Hollywood for NBC and CBS, and more recently with Telepic Corp., a firm which makes spot movies for television.

A brother Bernard is assistant manager of CBC services in Edmonton.

SEES CHANGES

In the short trip Monday from steamship docks to the home of an aunt, Mrs. Bertha Parsons, 563 Manchester, the announcer saw enough difference in his old home to remark: "There's an awful lot of change here."

"I'm tickled to death to see how the tourist angle is being worked," he added.

Since he left Victoria, he has lived mostly in the U.S. During the Second World War he served for a time with the Armed Forces Radio Service, which broadcast to Allied troops all over the world.

From what he's seen of Canadian coast TV, he's looking forward to great things in that field. He's also looking forward to doing some big things himself if he is able to set up his own live and film TV productions.

School Enrolment Up 1,000 Over Last Year

Grade Three and Four Overcrowding Means Shift System in Four Schools

Approximately 15,000 school children in the Greater Victoria area go to school September 7, 1,000 more than last year, and in at least four of School District No. 61's 38 schools, overcrowding is anticipated.

Extra large numbers of students are expected at Oaklands, View Royal, MacKenzie Avenue and Doncaster schools, which may mean introduction of a "shift" system of teaching there.

Where the system must be introduced, parents will be notified immediately. Overcrowding is mostly on the grades three and four level, and it is in these grades where there may be shift-teaching.

Pupils attending Lansdowne Junior High School won't have to report with other pupils Sept. 7 as the new school won't be ready to occupy on that date.

However, it is expected the school will be open by Sept. 13. All elementary school pupils must report to their schools at 9 a.m. Sept. 7, and at the end of the morning will be dismissed to allow time to buy school supplies. In the afternoon teachers will attend staff meetings to discuss upcoming matters for the year.

Junior high school students in grade nine must report at 9 a.m. in grade eight at 10 a.m. and in grade seven at 11 a.m. Senior high pupils in grade nine (there are some grade nine pupils in senior high schools) must report at 9 a.m., grade 10 at 10 a.m. and grades 11 and 12 at 11 a.m.

For the first time grade eight has been introduced at Esquimalt High School and pupils there must report at 9 a.m.

SCHOOL BUSES

School bus transportation for Gordon Head, View Royal and Esquimalt will operate as usual. Parents have schedules.

Out-of-town pupils or pupils new to an area in junior and senior high schools should visit their nearest secondary schools Wednesday, Thursday or Friday of this week between 10 a.m. and noon, or between 1 p.m. and 3 p.m., to see the principal.

All eight district high school principals are meeting this afternoon in the school board administration centre to review matters of policy and work while Friday 30 elementary school principals will meet in an all-day session.

Sing a song of Foster, Mayhap you'll win a prize

At last it has come—a contest for amateur poets! Poets or lyric writers may enter up to three original poems or song lyrics to the Stephen Foster Remembrance Society, 4136 1st Avenue, NW, Seattle. There is no entry fee and no obligation.

However, neither is their any mention of prizes in the society's brochure received today.

But there is no apparent loss, either, as poems remain property of the authors and will be returned "postpaid" following contest judging. There's a 10-day time limit in which to make submissions.

Poems may be submitted "on any subject," even, probably, on Stephen Foster.

City Boy Wins Union Label Scholarship

James Malcolm McMillan, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. G. McMillan, 2642 Forbes Street, last season's president of the Victoria High School Students' Association, has been awarded the $200 Allied Printing Trades Council Union Label Scholarship, it was announced today.

A graduate of Victoria High School he completed grade 12 examinations with an average of 92.5 per cent and was recipient of the Victoria High Leader Cup.

The scholarship is based on school achievement plus community and personal qualities, and the winner may attend either the University of British Columbia or Victoria College. Young McMillan will take his freshman year at Victoria College before attending UBC.

FILM TEAM ABANDONS UP-ISLAND LOCATION

Republic Pictures today abandoned plans for shooting a technicolor film, "Timberjack," on Vancouver Island, and decided on a Montana location as "more suitable."

Deputy trade minister E. G. Rowebottom said he was advised by Blake W. Owen Smith, a motion picture association executive, that Republic has scrapped plans for taking the film against a background of Vancouver Island logging operations.

The film company took some 3,500 feet of background pictures earlier this year on the Island. This will be used in the final production.

It was estimated the firm would spend in excess of $100,000 on the Island, and Mr. Rowebottom said "naturally regret losing the publicity the film would have given us."

No reason was given for the shift to Montana, other than a "more suitable location" had been found.

Last Rites for Edward Garside, Two-War Veteran

Victoria building contractor Edward Garside, 62, 1650 Davie, died Monday in St. Joseph's Hospital.

He had lived here since 1946, when he brought his family from Regina.

Mr. Garside was a member of Britannia Branch, Canadian Legion, and a veteran of both World Wars.

During the First World War he flew with the Royal Flying Corps, and in the recent conflict was a sergeant-major in the Veterans' Guard of Canada. He was born in Stockton-on-Tees, Durham, England, in 1892.

Surviving are his widow, Bertha Margaret; two sons, Thomas Henry, Penticton, and George Edward, Victoria; two daughters, Mrs. Peter Horlick, Regina, and Mrs. E. A. Southwell, Victoria; eight grandchildren, and a brother, George Henry, Regina.

Services will be at McCall's, Thursday at 10.30 a.m., Rev. G. R. Easter conducting. Interment will be at Royal Oak Cemetery.

Born in St. John, N.B., in 1881, he leaves his widow, Eunice; two sons, Dr. F. H. Bonnell, Victoria radiologist, Dr. Ronald R. Bonnell, Vancouver; a daughter, Mrs. E. J. R. Wright, London, Ont.; 11 grandchildren and a brother Kenneth, Montreal.

Funeral services will be by McCall's at 3 p.m. Thursday, under Rev. Dr. F. E. H. James.

SHOPPING GUIDE

Hand-Worked Petit Point To Buy, Frame and Hang

By PENNY SAVER

There is nothing quite like a framed piece of hand-worked petit point to hint of days gone by. Old-fashioned moss roses set on black velvet and framed, to be hung in milady's "pink frosting" bedroom add that needed personal touch.

I say "personal" because the petit point I have in mind is not manufactured, but completely handmade by a Victoria woman. I wish you could see some of her work. I know you'd marvel at it, as I did. Her full-blown roses are so fragile-looking, that one hesitates to touch, for fear the petals will fall off. That, of course, is ridiculous... but it's the feeling I get.

For a mauve or green bedroom, I would suggest her clusters of pansies. The rich violet hues she works with, give the appearance of the velvet pile surface of a real pansy.

Complete scenes can be worked in petit point, and this woman has accomplished some remarkable ones that may well be illustrating Vancouver Island. There is one of a mountain, trees and scattered clouds, all reflected in a crystal clear lake. There is an autumn scene and some silver birches. She has also reproduced the form of a graceful ballerina in a pink costume. Prices are from $5.95.

Is your man the "tweedy type"? Then I'll bet he'd go for the all-woven ties I spotted today in a local woolen shop. These ties caught my attention even before I realized the price tag was just $1. Couldn't ask for a more reasonable tie, now could you?

To get on with the description, the ties are in all sorts of tweeds, check and fleck designs. All are most tasteful... there's not a gaudy tie in the lot. Wine, navy, green, rust, blue, and yellow are some of the colors.

Don't complain about not having a shower in your house, when there's such a thing as a shower spray that attaches to your bathtub tap. One I saw today was just 49 cents!

WHY GROW OLD?

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Watch Vitamin B Intake If You Would Stay Young

If you wish to live for a long time, you need not sit and rest while others work as the queen bee does.

One of the most interesting discoveries is the fact that the queen bee is fed a special diet which is very rich in several of the vitamin B factors. She lives many times longer than the workers who have none of the queen's food. I think I once reported in this column that this same food has been tried on other insects with a resulting 45 per cent increase in the length of their lives.

While we are not insects, we know that more and more about the importance of vitamin B is being learned and surveys have shown that vitamin B is one of the two vitamins in which the average diet is most deficient. So if we are interested in remaining young as long as possible and living to a ripe old age, we should watch our vitamin B intake.

Vitamin B is really a family which is made up of many different members. All of them are probably not yet known to science. Every one of us should try to get as much vitamin B as we can in our diet in its natural form. Some of the best sources are liver, pork, beef, green leafy vegetables, soy beans, whole wheat, milk and orange juice. As a matter of fact, this vitamin is widely spread through our foods but often in very small amounts. Therefore we should see to it that we eat some of the high potency vitamin B foods each day.

If you wish to reinforce your regular diet with vitamin B concentrates be sure to take vitamin B complex which gives you all of the vitamin B family. Brewer's yeast is one of the richest and cheapest sources. You can get this in powdered form or in tablets. Ask your doctor how much you should take, if any.

The average diet also is often deficient in vitamin C. The citrus fruits are the most reliable sources of this vitamin.

If you would like to have my leaflet "Vitamins in Your Diet," send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 38 to Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper.

Catholic Women's Council Here in Midsummer Meeting

Mid-summer meeting of Victoria Diocesan Council, Catholic Women's League of Canada, was held in St. Andrew's Cathedral parish hall last week. Rev. Father D. Johnson opened the meeting. Forty members attended and the diocesan president, Miss J. Madeline Clay, presided. Other officers present were Mrs. Rieder, Port Alberni, recording secretary; Mrs. H. Johnson, Shawnigan Lake, treasurer; Mrs. Arthur Smith, Esquimalt, first vice-president; Mrs. W. Rogers, Victoria, second vice-president; Mrs. J. A. McLellan, Oak Bay, past president.

MR. AND MRS. W. B. CROMBIE

Last Sunday the family of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Crombie, 1182 Transit Road, entertained relatives and friends in honor of their parents' 50th wedding anniversary at the home of their elder son and his daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Crombie, 3350 Uplands Road.

Mr. and Mrs. Crombie were married in Montreal, Aug. 31, 1904. Mrs. Crombie, then Miss Isabella Frew, journeyed from Scotland to wed her fiancé, who had proceeded to Canada the previous year. They lived in Prince Albert a number of years, coming to Victoria 34 years ago.

The skill of the bagpipes, played by Piper W. Mossie, of the Canadian Scottish, announced the arrival of the bride couple of 50 years ago, and they were "piped in" to meet their many guests. A rose bud corsage was presented to the "bride" by granddaughter, Elizabeth Crombie. They were assisted in receiving by their two daughters, Mrs. A. Wood, Vancouver, and Mrs. H. J. M. Curry and their two daughters-in-law, Mrs. T. Crombie and Mrs. R. B. Crombie. Servitors were granddaughters, Mrs. J. R. Barry, and the Misses Roberta, Davina and Carol Crombie and Marian Tait. There are nine grandchildren.

Gold, yellow and pink flowers decorated the reception rooms. The tea table was centred with an inscribed anniversary cake and was flanked by silver candelabra, the centre scone of each being filled with tawny gold roses and ivy in crystal epergnettes and matching tapers. Mrs. E. L. Pottenger, Mrs. S. R. Webb, Mrs. S. N. Holman and Miss K. Knapton presided at the refreshment table.

St. John Garden Party

Mrs. A. H. Cook and Mrs. B. DeAltroy are on a committee that has completed plans for the St. John Ambulance Brigade annual garden party which will be held on Wednesday at the home of Mrs. C. F. Armstrong and Mrs. C. F. Driscoll, 1630 York Place. Mrs. W. A. C. Bennett will officially open the affair at 2.30 p.m. A program of solo and figure dancing will be presented by the Katherine Costain Dancing School. There will be stalls of home cooking, knitted wear, ice cream, superfluities, flowers and candy, also games and a kiddies' corner, where small children will be looked after by cadets. Admission will include afternoon tea which will be served by St. John Auxiliary.

Vancouver Wedding Of Interest Here

A former Victorian, Maureen Elizabeth Walsh, graduate of Vancouver General Hospital, who received her early education at Monterey and Oak Bay High Schools, was married Saturday afternoon to Donald William S. Westlake, a student at University of British Columbia. Rev. T. W. Scott officiated in St. Mark's Anglican Church.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter W. Walsh and the groom, adopted son of Miss B. M. Westlake, is studying for his Master of Science degree at UBC, where he is affiliated with Delta Upsilon fraternity.

The bride wore a ballerina gown of white tulle over satin. The strapless bodice, topped by a Chantilly lace jacket trimmed with diamonds, had a horseshoe neckline, and her Juliet cap of Chantilly lace, also diamond-trimmed, held her finger-tips veil. She carried Talisman roses and stephanotis.

Mrs. Robert Barclay, the bride's only attendant, wore an azure blue ballerina gown of Chantilly lace over taffeta with off-shoulder neckline and small lace-draped sleeves. Her matching picture hat was of Chantilly lace, and she carried flowers similar to the bride's.

William Weatherall was best man with Doug Watts and Greg Taylor ushering.

After the reception at the Dolphins, the young couple left on a honeymoon to Anderson Lake Lodge.

Ambassador's Wife Had Her Own Place in Embassy Life in Japan

By ELIZABETH FORBES

It was an interesting life Mrs. Robert Mayhew led, as wife of Canada's Ambassador to Japan. Exciting, too, and very different. But she is quite happy to give it all up now for the family home on Beach Drive.

"It's so small and cosy," she says, "I feel as if I can touch the ceilings and the walls." Then she laughs a bit for the Mayhew home on Beach Drive is not really small. It just seems so after the high-ceilinged rooms, the long hallways and the great staid in the Canadian Embassy in Tokyo.

Mrs. Mayhew had her own place in the whirl of events that made up embassy life in Japan. It was she who saw that everything within the embassy residence ran smoothly and that the staff of Japanese servants did their parts.

It was she who planned details of any entertaining at the Embassy, the dinners and the receptions that ran through the social season which started in September and continued until the end of June. It was her duty too, to call on the wives of high ranking Japanese officials and on the wives of Ambassadors from countries older in the Japanese diplomatic circle than Canada (all others called first upon her). And she had to be ready to receive calls in return.

BUSY HOSTESS

On the surface this would appear to be fairly easy for Mrs. Mayhew. It was noted for her gracious entertaining. In Victoria where one may handle a good sized reception by merely sending out cards, or a small dinner party by telephoning friends, it would be a fairly simple matter.

Not however, at the Canadian Embassy in Japan.

When the ambassador's wife wished to arrange a dinner party she would first sit down at her desk in her upstairs sitting room and make out a list of those she would like to have attend. There would always be a guest of honor, then several Japanese couples, and representatives from other embassies where Ambassador and Mrs. Mayhew had been entertained. Usually there were also several couples from Canada's armed forces in Japan and always at least two couples from the embassy chancery.

With her list completed, Grace Mayhew enlisted the help of the Ambassador's secretary who, by telephone, quietly found out if the guest of honor was free on the date set. If so, then the next guest of importance was telephoned and possibly the next. When the main guests had signified in this way that they would be free, invitation cards were sent out to the whole list.

While she was in Japan, Mrs. Mayhew was hostess at two mammoth Dominion Day garden parties arranged by the Ambassador to bring together all Canadians in Tokyo and from other parts of the country. In the picture above, the Ambassador and Mrs. Mayhew are standing on the patio outside the drawing room at the Embassy just before their Dominion Day guests arrived. The sugar creation is a replica of the Canadian Embassy and a part of the gardens. It was created by Embassy cooks.

This would be about three weeks ahead.

"Then we had to wait," Mrs. Mayhew says, "until we got our replies. As things move slowly in Japan, perhaps this would be within two weeks."

"After that, we had to fill in for those who might send regrets."

EARLY START

While she was in Japan, Grace Mayhew's day commenced, as did the ambassador's, at 7.15 in the morning. She read the morning papers in her room, then dressed and was ready for breakfast at 8.15. Following breakfast she went to the kitchen, where the staff was lined up for instructions for the day. The cook presented his menu suggestions, which she would approve or perhaps change in some detail. Then she would open her mail and start the busy round of her day.

Somewhere in her schedule she managed to take lessons in Japanese so she would be able to say a few words to Japanese friends and to the embassy servants in their own language. She took lessons, too, in flower arranging.

Because of the great humidity she had to check with the maids at various times to make sure the embassy linens and blankets were not getting mouldy and even her own clothes and the Ambassador's suits.

"We finally had to get a dehumidifier for our clothes," she says "and blankets were kept in a metal-lined room."

There were the food supplies to watch. Mrs. Mayhew ordered many things from Canada. They came out in bulk by freighter and were stored in a big room in the basement of the Embassy. Again because of the humidity it was necessary to watch the stores closely and this was another thing Mrs. Mayhew had to oversee.

CHECKED SUPPLIES

"We were often forced to bring flour and dry cereals up into the big kitchen to dry," she explains "and if we didn't go over the stores at regular intervals we would have lost many of our supplies."

Asked what will be her most outstanding memories of Japan, Mrs. Mayhew lists the cormorant, fishing and the duck netting, both ancient sports with the people.

Another memory, however, will be of the day she and the Ambassador left the Embassy for the last time.

"The staff lined up along the driveway," she says, "and the little children, from the compound joined in. We hated to leave them, they had been so loyal."

Designer of Seattle City Seal Seeks Simplification in Art

A "master in plaster" sculptor James A. Wehn of Seattle today came out against radicals in sculpturing and other art forms.

"Simplification is good for all and takes away from the excessive nature in all art media," he said.

Mr. Wehn is the sculptor of numerous Pacific Northwest historical monuments, including five in Alaska. He is also the sculptor of Seattle's "Chief Seattle" monument in the city centre; Seattle's city seal, and the Washington Territory centennial stamp issued in March last year and the centennial bronze medal.

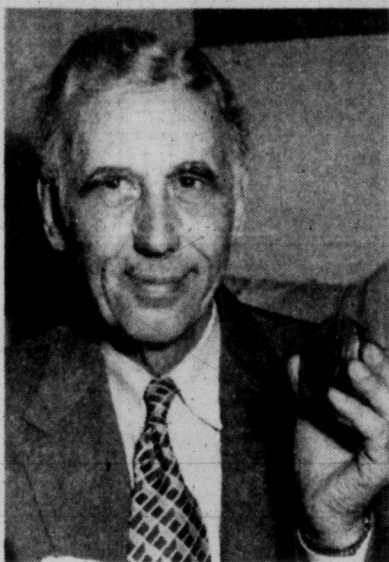

The provincial archives now have one of the medals, of which only 200 were struck as collector's items.

As a medallionist, Mr. Wehn is considered one of the finest in the U.S. His work is extremely detailed and strong.

The original drawing of the centennial stamp has been put in the Washington State capital, Olympia, time capsule to be opened in 2053.

Mr. Wehn, who studied under German, French and Italian sculptors, founded the department of sculpture at University of Washington in 1919. His current work is to design a monument commemorating pioneers of the Puget Sound Canal area.

While here he has been a guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Barton, "Three Oaks."

Two Men Enter Guilty Plea in Forgery Charge

Two young Victoria men were charged in city police court Monday with passing a worthless cheque at Moore's Food Centre, 451 Cook.

Timothy Cordick and Barry Keele, both in their early 20's, pleaded guilty. A detective told the court that Keele had presented a cheque made out to Cordick and bearing a false signature. He added that the two men shared $46.22 which had been given in exchange for the cheque.

The same pair were remanded in Colwood court last week where they were charged jointly with uttering two false cheques.

They will appear for trial before Magistrate A. I. Thomas at Colwood Thursday.

Magistrate H. C. Hall, in city court remanded them for sentence until Friday.

(BB PLUS) "Melba" (Odeon) — In the days the great Australian operatic soprano Dame Nellie Melba flourished critics hailed her voice and execution as being the finest of her day. Many, however, criticised her acting as being cold and aloof.

Today, almost a quarter of a century after Dame Melba's death (1931), 29-year-old Patrice Munsel, one-time bobbysoxer and "baby of the Met," attempts to portray the life of the Victorian singer, and although her voice may not be of the same high calibre it is doubtful if the critics could call her "cold."

Miss Munsel, born in Spokane, Wash. (1925), delivers a characterization that is warm and glowing with life.

In spite of her vivacity and intelligent acting, however, Miss Munsel and her cast appear to be hampered by mechanical difficulties in this Horizon Picture film. "Always so clear in quality, Miss Munsel's glorious soprano takes on a mechanical tone, especially in some of the higher and medium notes, which only can be laid, surely, to the transcription to the soundtrack.

Also the picture, in spots, is poorly cut, jumping from one scene to the other with noted loss of continuity.

Strangely enough, these mechanical defects fail to detract too much, thus "Melba" turns out to be a fairly satisfying film.

Dame Nellie Melba, as most music lovers know, was born in Burnby, Australia (1861), as Nellie Porter Mitchell. Before making her debut at Brussels in 1887, however, she adopted her famous stage name, a contraction of Melbourne with an "a" added. Following her successful debut the Australian toured the capitals of the world for more than 20 years until Nellie Porter Mitchell became more than a great singer. She became a legend.

Mendes-France Gets Free Hand From Assembly

French Premier Will Try For Alternative to EDC

PARIS (UP)—Premier Pierre Mendes-France won a free hand from the National Assembly today to negotiate a new solution for German rearmament to replace the now-dead European Defense Community Treaty. By a vote of 418 to 162, the premier won a vote of confidence in his ability to find a new medium of western European co-operation replacing the EDC Treaty defeated by the Assembly Monday.

By DONALD J. GONZALES

WASHINGTON (UP)—Secretary of State John Foster Dulles today called for an emergency meeting of the North Atlantic Treaty Council to weigh the "tragedy" caused by French rejection of the European Army plan (EDC).

Dulles, in a strongly-worded statement, said the action of the French Assembly Monday in rejecting the plan by a 319-to-264 vote, "obviously imposes on the United States the obligation to reappraise its foreign policies, particularly those in relation to Europe."

The EDC plan, providing for West German rearmament under a supranational command, had been a centerpiece of U.S. policy in Europe.

Describing the French action as a "saddening event," Dulles declared it did not change the "stubborn" fact that the effective defense of Europe calls for a substantial military contribution from the Germans.

Dulles said, in effect, that the reappraisal of U.S. policies will include the question of how many U.S. troops will be stationed in Europe. President Eisenhower in the past pledged to keep the equivalent of six U.S. divisions in western Europe—provided EDC was ratified.

Referring to France's rejection of EDC, Dulles said:

"It is a tragedy that in one country, nationalism, abetted by Communism, has asserted itself so as to endanger the whole of Europe."

"That tragedy would be compounded if the United States was thereby led to conclude that it must turn to a course of narrow nationalism. It is a matter of elementary prudence that the United States should review its dispositions and planning in the light of the new situation now created."

Sovereignty for West Germany

Dulles confirmed that the United States will go ahead with moves to grant sovereignty to West Germany, despite the rejection of EDC to which German sovereignty had been tied. He said it would be "unconscionable if the failure to realize EDC through no fault of Germany's should now be used as an excuse for penalizing Germany."

"The federal German republic should take its place as a free and equal member of the society of nations," Dulles said. "That was the purpose of the resolution which the United States senate adopted unanimously last July, and the United States will act accordingly."

Dulles recalled that he had warned the 74-nation NATO council last April that if EDC failed "that would create an emergency situation which would call for special meeting of that council."

Meanwhile, openly disappointed at the French decision, President Eisenhower said, "There is no disguising the fact" that it was a "serious setback" for the west. The United States is properly dismayed, he said, but "shall not quit" its free world leadership.

NATO Meeting Seen Opportune

OTTAWA (BUP)—Canada believes a new meeting of the North Atlantic powers to review the question of arming western Germany would be "opportune now," a foreign affairs spokesman said today.

External Affairs Minister Lester B. Pearson was not immediately available for comment on the call of U.S. Secretary of State John Foster Dulles for an emergency meeting of the North Atlantic council.

Churchill Calls Cabinet Meeting

PARIS (UP)—Premier Pierre Mendes-France asked the French National assembly today to postpone all discussion of foreign policy for two months and there were reports he would fly to England to confer with Prime Minister Winston Churchill.

In London it was announced Churchill had called a meeting of his cabinet for Wednesday to consider problems raised by the French Assembly rejection of the European Defense Community (EDC) Monday night.

Mendes-France proposed the French Assembly take its much-postponed summer vacation and reconvene Nov. 3. His move apparently was made to give western leaders as much freedom as possible in working out alternatives to the EDC. The Assembly reconvened today after defeating the treaty 319 to 264.

The 74-year-old French leader sought ways and means of convincing his Allies that his nation still backs the western alliance despite assembly rejection of the joint European army plan.

Mendes-France was reported by political sources in Paris to be preparing an "important" statement to the assembly, possibly on an alternative to EDC granting West Germany its sovereignty and rearming Germans in defense of Western Europe.

In London Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden announced that he "reluctantly" decided he is unable to go to Manila next month for the Southeast Asian conference because of "urgent and important problems arising from the rejection by the French Assembly of the European army."

Eden rushed to London from a country week-end to study the situation resulting from the

NINE INJURED AS VANCOUVER GETS DELUGE

VANCOUVER (CP)—Lashing rain and slippery streets here late Monday were blamed by police for 26 traffic accidents. Nine people were injured, none seriously. The .38 inch of rain was almost twice the average .20 inch of other "wet" August days.

9 Known Dead As Hurricane Strikes U.S.

Damage in Millions, Thousands Marooned

BOSTON (UP)—At least nine persons were killed as hurricane Carol swept across southern New England today.

Eight bodies were washed up on Oakland Beach, Warwick, R.I. shortly after the storm centre passed. Earlier, a businessman was blown to his death from a 10-story building in Worcester, Mass.

Providence, R.I., was flooded when the storm struck at high tide. Water pushed into the downtown area to within two feet of the level reached in the disastrous hurricane in 1938.

Thousands of workers were marooned in downtown Providence office buildings when the water submerged buses and cars.

Damaged was estimated in the millions of dollars. All power and telephone communication was cut off to the flooded area.

The hurricane had swept across heavily populated Long Island and into New England, smashing heavy seas against docks and beaches, toppling trees and power lines and sweeping small craft from their moorings.

AIRLINES DIVERTED

MONTREAL (BUP)—Four big trans-Atlantic airliners bound for New York's Idlewild Airport were diverted to Montreal today as the lashing tail of a hurricane brought rain and high winds to Long Island, N.Y.

British Overseas Airways Corp., Air France, Trans-World Airlines and the Belgian Sabena Airlines ordered their planes to land at nearby Dorval Airport, until weather conditions cleared up at Idlewild.

WORLD COUNCIL WINDS UP

Peace, Justice Only At Cross of Christ

EVANSTON, Ill. (UP)—The World Council of Churches closed its second assembly today with a solemn warning to the world that final peace and justice can be found "only at the cross of Christ."

Six hundred delegates from 163 churches and denominations in 48 states closed a 17-day convention considered one of the most important religious meetings ever held in the western hemisphere.

As one of its final actions, the assembly sent forth a message to Christians based on the meeting's theme of "Christ, the Hope of the World."

"Only at the cross of Christ, where men know themselves as forgiven sinners, can they be made one," the message said. "It is there that Christians must pray daily for their enemies. It is there that we must seek deliverance from self-righteousness, impatience and fear. And those who know that Christ is risen should have the courage to expect new power to break through every human barrier."

The church leaders vowed to press forward toward greater unity between the faiths.

IMPROVEMENT SCHEME FOR CITY DRAFTED

1st Year Beauty Grant Allotted to Waterfront

Slated for $50,000 "face-lifting," Holland Point lies off Dallas Road between Douglas and Menzies Streets. (Times Photo by Irving Strickland.)

$50,000 Earmarked For Holland Point

Victoria's $50,000 capital city grant this year will be spent on extensive beautification of Holland Point, on the Dallas Road waterfront, between Menzies and Douglas.

The joint provincial-civic grant administration and the provincial government have approved the plan. Work will start in two or three weeks.

Landscape specialists are being consulted, and a master plan will be drawn for turning the area from dense gorse and broom waste to a valuable scenic attraction.

The original plan presented by the six-man committee was returned for further consideration by Provincial Secretary Wesley Black. On Monday, the committee approved slightly revised plans for the project.

FAIL PROJECT

A government source said it is expected the entire grant will be spent on Holland Point before winter.

Dallas Road residents have repeatedly demanded clearing of the point.

Members of the capital city grant committee are Mayor Claude Harrison, Alderman Arthur Dowell, and City Manager Cecil Wyatt for the city; and provincial librarian Willard Ireland, deputy works minister Evan Jones, and deputy municipal affairs minister J. E. Brown, for the province.

The $50,000 grant was approved at the spring session of the legislature. At that time, government spokesmen promised it would be a continuing grant.

Committee members are reported to have recommended the Holland Point development as a project which could fit into a long-term beautification program for the city, using an annual provincial grant.

Holland Point at one time was the site of fortifications. It is named after George Holland, a Hudson's Bay Co. employee who first landed at Victoria aboard the Beaver, in 1836.

He later taught school at Fort Vancouver, and became company postmaster at Langley in 1843. Holland's name first appeared on the Kellett admiral's chart of 1848.

PNE Rain Check

VANCOUVER (CP)—Directors of the Pacific National Exhibition decided to hold another "Children's Day" Thursday after learning that Monday's special day drew 17,000 fewer children than last year's 30,000 attendance. Stormy weather was blamed for the drop.

Universal Training?

WASHINGTON (UP)—The American Legion will go on record Wednesday in favor of a universal military training program calling for 16 weeks' basic training for every able-bodied young man, informed sources predicted today.

'COME ON ALF, 'OP IT'

Englishman's Bus His Castle Too?

By EMERSON CHAPIN

LONDON (Reuters)—Middle-aged London business men today were stepping out after the city's big red double-decker buses like track stars pounding down the straight-away.

Gone was all the traditional aplomb with which the patient queues at bus stops normally await their turn—swept away in a single bold judgment by a free-enterprising judge. For Judge Paul Bennett declared in court Monday that "a citizen has the right to get on a bus at traffic lights or whenever it is stationary."

The punch in his statement lies in the fact that British buses have no doors. Passengers simply step on or off the open platform at the rear.

This permits the nimble-footed travelers to dismount in a hurry as his bus slows

MOSCOW TEAM NOT INVITED

SEATO Text Leak In Manila Paper

Treaty Said to Follow Anzus Pact; Philippines President Orders Probe

MANILA (Reuters)—Philippines President Ramon Magsaysay today ordered a full investigation into the circumstances by which an American-owned newspaper here printed the "top-secret" text of an American draft for a Southeast Asia Treaty Organization.

The draft, due to be studied Wednesday by a mission of eight countries arriving here for a conference on the proposed pact, was published in full in the Manila Bulletin.

It follows the lines of the Anzus defensive treaty involving the United States, Australia and New Zealand.

Admiral Raymond Spruance, U.S. ambassador to the Philippines, is understood to have called on Magsaysay to protest against publication of the draft.

The leakage is expected to rule out Manila as the probable headquarters for SEATO.

ENVOYS EMBARRASSED

Some advance-guard members of the delegations to next week's talks, involving the U.S., Britain, France, Australia, New Zealand, Thailand, the Philippines and Pakistan, described the publication as "highly embarrassing." And delegates who preferred not to be named described the Bulletin's version of the American draft agreement as "pretty right."

The published version of the American draft contained nine articles fixing the treaty area as the general area of Southeast Asia and the Southwest Pacific, not including the area north of 21 degrees, 30 minutes north latitude. This line runs between the north of the Philippines and Formosa. It also intersects Tonkin Province of Indo-China.

It provided that each treaty party would "act to meet the common danger in accordance

MARTHA WAYNE COMIC IN TIMES TODAY

MARTHA

The Times today introduces a new strip to its readers on the comic page. It is "The Story of Martha Wayne."

Today's strip, on Page 17, introduces some of the characters and gives the background of the current episode.

The story is a lively and warm one of every-day people and their every-day problems, but it combines romance and mystery with intrigue.

The man who does both the continuity and the drawings is artist-writer Wilson Scruggs, who succeeds in making Martha Wayne a really human character.

Turn to Page 17 for the introduction to Martha Wayne which will appear daily.

FINAL BULLETINS

$1 Million Day for Fishermen

VANCOUVER (CP)—Monday was another $1,000,000 day for British Columbia's fish industry.
A fleet of 350 seiners and hordes of smaller gillnetters ran smack into the middle of the fabulous Adams River run in the Active Pass area and netted nearly 600,000 sockeye, fisheries officials reported today following a preliminary estimate.

McGill to Honor Duchess of Kent

MONTREAL (BUP)—McGill University announced today it would bestow an honorary degree of Doctor of Laws on the Duchess of Kent Sept. 14.

Apply for Supervised Strike Vote

VANCOUVER (CP)—Fishermen's Union will apply today for a government-supervised strike vote of 700 fresh fish and cold storage workers following company rejection of a conciliation board report.
Alex Gordon, union business agent, said "continued refusal" of the operators to accept a majority conciliation board award made the strike ballot necessary.

7 Coquitlam Boys Captured

REGINA (CP)—Seven youths, all believed to be members of a group which escaped 10 days ago from a boys' industrial home at Coquitlam, B.C., were captured here today.
Three were apprehended after police fired 10 shots and raced at speeds of more than 100 miles an hour in stopping a stolen car.

Smoke Eaters 'Not Negotiating'

TRAIL, B.C. (CP)—The president of the Trail Smoke Eaters denied Monday night that the Western International Hockey League team will enter into a working agreement with Montreal Canadiens.
"We've made no negotiations with any pro club," said Gino LeRose.

No Apology for Bike Withdrawals

MELBOURNE, Australia (BUP)—Manager Bill Young said tonight he would "make no apology for anything I did" with the Australian cycling team at the British Empire Games in Vancouver this month.
He told cheering crowd of 200 who welcomed him home with the Victorian riders that he felt he had done the right thing in pulling his team out of the Games.

McCarthy Hearing Ends in Row

WASHINGTON (UP)—The first session of a special Senate committee hearing on charges against Senator Joseph R. McCarthy broke up today in a shouting, gavel-banging exchange between McCarthy and committee chairman Arthur V. Watkins (R-Utah).—(See story, Page 2.)

Hurricane Washes Out Eastern Sport Events

NEW YORK (AP)—The Atlantic coast hurricane, bringing torrential rains and winds of gale force, wiped out a heavy sports schedule throughout the east today—including major league baseball, tennis and racing.

Not a victim of the violent storm, however, was the crucial New York Yankees-Cleveland Indians series at Yankee Stadium, where the opening game was scheduled at 5:30 p.m. PDT.
The full fourth day program of the National tennis championships at Forest Hills, N.Y., was washed out.

Lincoln Downs at Lincoln, R.I., canceled the opening of the 23-day fall meeting and reset today's program for Wednesday. Start of the American tuxedo derby, off the coast of Rhode Island, also was delayed because of the storm.

Today's first race at Aqueduct race track in New York was run without benefit of the tote board or the finish camera. Heavy rains and winds knocked out electrical services in Queens County where the track is located.

Dulles Seeks NATO Meeting After EDC Loss

West Studies New Moves
Following French Decision

PARIS (UP)—Premier Pierre Mendes-France won a free hand from the National Assembly today to negotiate a new solution for German rearmament to replace the now-dead European Defense Community Treaty. By a vote of 418 to 162, the premier won a vote of confidence in his ability to find a new medium of western European co-operation replacing the EDC Treaty defeated by the Assembly Monday.

By DONALD J. GONZALES
WASHINGTON (UP)—Secretary of State John Foster Dulles today called for an emergency meeting of the North Atlantic Treaty Council to weigh the "tragedy" caused by French rejection of the European Army plan (EDC).

Dulles, in a strongly-worded statement, said the action of the French Assembly Monday in rejecting the plan by a 319 to 264 vote, "obviously imposes on the United States the obligation to reappraise its foreign policies, particularly those in relation to Europe."

The EDC plan, providing for West German rearmament under a supranational command, had been a centerpiece of U.S. policy in Europe.

Describing the French action as a "saddening event," Dulles declared it did not change the "stubborn" fact that the effective defense of Europe calls for a substantial military contribution from the Germans.

Dulles said, in effect, that the reappraisal of U.S. policies will include the question of how many U.S. troops will be stationed in Europe. President Eisenhower in the past pledged to keep the equivalent of six U.S. divisions in western Europe—provided EDC was ratified.

Referring to France's rejection of EDC, Dulles said:

"It is a tragedy that in one country, nationalism, abetted by Communism, has asserted itself so as to endanger the whole of Europe."

"That tragedy would be compounded if the United States was thereby led to conclude that it must turn to a course of narrow nationalism. It is a matter of elementary prudence that the United States should review its dispositions and planning in the light of the new situation now created."

Dulles recalled that he had warned the 74-nation NATO (Continued on Page 16)

"The federal German republic should take its place as a free and equal member of the society of nations," Dulles said.

"That was the purport of the resolution which the United States senate adopted unanimously last July, and the United States will act accordingly."

Beauty Grant Set For Holland Point

Work to Start Within Three Weeks
On Waterfront Project; Draw Up Plans

Victoria's $50,000 capital city grant this year will be spent on extensive beautification of Holland Point, on the Dallas Road waterfront, between Menzies and Douglas.

The joint provincial-civic grant administration and the provincial government have approved the plan. Work will start in two or three weeks.

Landscape specialists are being consulted, and a master plan will be drawn for turning the area from dense gorse and broom waste to a valuable scenic attraction.

The original plan presented by the six-man committee was returned for further consideration by Provincial Secretary Wesley Black. On Monday, the committee approved slightly revised plans for the project.

A government source said it is expected the entire grant will be spent on Holland Point before winter.

Dallas Road residents have repeatedly demanded clearing of the point.

Members of the capital city grant committee are Mayor Claude Harrison, Alderman Arthur Dowell, and City Manager Cecil Wyatt for the city; and Provincial Librarian Willard Ireland, Deputy Works Minister Evan Jones, and Deputy Municipal Affairs Minister J. E. Brown, for the province.

The $50,000 grant was approved at the spring session of the legislature. At that time, government spokesmen promised it would be a continuing grant.

Committee members are reported to have recommended the Holland Point development as a project which could fit into a long-term beautification program for the city, using an annual provincial grant.

Holland Point at one time was the site of fortifications. It is named after George Holland, a Hudson's Bay Co. employee who first landed at Victoria aboard the Beaver, in 1836.

He later taught school at Fort Vancouver, and became company postmaster at Langley in 1843. Holland's name first appeared on the Kellett admiralty chart of 1848.

Police said it was obvious Zwarich himself could have nothing to do with the McDowell case. But they were questioning him in the belief he might have some knowledge of it.

Meanwhile, Robert Fabian, former Scotland Yard superintendent investigating the McDowell disappearance, appealed in The Telegram for a small letter-writer identified only as "Mr. H." The Telegram brought Fabian to Toronto to re-open the investigations into the disap-

Car Swept Over Bridge; Man Falls 10 Stories

BOSTON (AP)—A fast-moving hurricane swept up the Atlantic coast today taking at least nine lives in New England and one in New Jersey as torrential rains pelted wide areas in wind gusts up to 100 miles an hour. Damage will be in the millions.

The early-season storm hit New Jersey and metropolitan New York before throwing its full fury into New England at mid-morning.

Seven deaths were reported in Rhode Island and two in Massachusetts.

A woman was dead at Bristol, R.I. and at least four perished in the Oakland section of Warwick. Two were reported killed in Newport, R.I. when an automobile was swept away while attempting a bridge crossing. A man was knocked from a 10-story fire escape in Worcester, Mass., and another was drowned at Dartmouth, Mass.

Emergency status was declared for New London, Conn.; Providence and Westerly, R.I.; and Cape Cod in Massachusetts.

BOSTON IN PATH

The storm, labelled Hurricane Carol, which swept up from the southern Atlantic coastal areas, crossed Long Island Sound, striking the Connecticut and Rhode Island coastline with increasing fury. Gusts of 100 miles an hour were recorded in Boston.

In early afternoon the U.S. weather bureau reported the storm centre between Boston and Worcester with its course to the north-northeastward. Southern New Hampshire and Maine lay in its path and power lines in those areas were damaged.

The weather bureau said that the hurricane was losing speed and fury as it moved overland.

During the emergency period, from noon Friday to noon Tuesday, Sept. 7, intensive air and ground patrols will cover state highways to seek out traffic fatalities.

Michigan led the United States in highway deaths during the Fourth of July week-end with 33 fatalities.

NINE INJURED AS VANCOUVER GETS DELUGE

VANCOUVER (CP)—Lashing rain and slippery streets here late Monday were blamed by police for 26 traffic accidents. Nine people were injured, none seriously. The 38 inch of rain was almost twice the average 20 inch of other "wet" August days.

Labor Day 'Emergency' For Michigan

LANSING, Mich. (AP)—Governor G. Mennen Williams has declared a state of emergency in Michigan during the long Labor Day week-end in an effort to reduce an anticipated high traffic death toll.

Williams signed an emergency declaration Monday giving legal status to his previous act of calling out units of the Michigan National Guard to aid in patrolling state highways.

Michigan led the United States in highway deaths during the Fourth of July week-end with 33 fatalities.
